15-year tax burden won't be cured by change to Dist. 34

by GLORIA DAVIS

Lindenhurst Mayor Robert Ratch is again calling for the Millburn School Dist. to become part of the Antioch Grade School Dist. 34 because of the high tax rate of the Millburn School Dist.

Ratch is complaining that the high tax rate of the Millburn School Dist., "which only constitutes a small part of the village," is giving the Village of Lindenhurst a black eye.

Ratch points out that in the last five years his village's assessed valuation has increased 31 percent while the tax levy has only gone up 20 percent.

The low tax base in the Millburn School Dist. is being blamed for the tax rate hike for Millburn electors and Ratch, who feels the village has done a good job in keeping taxes at a good level, doesn't like the complaints coming from the residents of the Millburn School Dist.

Annexation to Dist. 34 was tried by these residents two years ago but was turned down by the Regional School Board of Trustees because there were not enough signatures on the petition.

Supt. Donald Skidmore of Dist. 34 would make no comment on the proposed school annexation "because no one has made an official approach and I don't know the particulars at this time."

Skidmore did say that annexation would not be an immediate cure for the high tax rate at Millburn since "any bond indebtedness incurred by Millburn would still have to be paid of by those same district residents. Antioch would not take the debt over."

Supt. Lee Smithy of Millburn Dist. 24 agreed with Skidmore saying, "Even if they change school districts they will carry the bond indebtedness burden (which includes a new addition Millburn is putting on) with them for 15 years."

Pilot injured, plane crashes into lake

A 49-year-old Gurnee funeral director crashed a seaplane into Grass Lake, outside of Antioch, while practicing landings.

John Salata suffered cuts and bruises and a possible fracture when the 1981 single engine LA 4200 pontoon equipped plane went into the lake during take-off and landing practices on Wednesday, Aug. 31 at approximately 7:30 p.m.

According to a Lake County Sheriff Dept.'s report, Salata said that he had come in too fast on a landing approach and the suction on the pontoons caused the plane to turn over.

Lake County Republicans who were at a party for County Treas. Jack Anderson on Blarney Island at the time witnessed the accident.

A person boating on the lake pulled Salata from the plane and transported him to the Mutiny Pub on Grass Lake Rd. and a customer in the lounge took the injured pilot to Lake Villa and the St. Therese Trauma Satellite where he was treated for upper body, leg and arm injuries and released.

The crash is being investigated by the Federal Aviation Administration.

ANTIOCH TOWNSHIP ASSESSMENT ROLL FOR 1988

Changes in the assessment roll by the Township Assessor of Antioch Township, as certified by the Lake County Supervisor of Assessments, appears in this issue of the Antioch News Reporter. Property owners in Antioch Township should make it a point to check the amount of their assessment.

Any property owner who objects to the amount of their assessment should file a complaint in writing, on the prescribed form, with the Board of Review, 18 North County Street, Room 603, Waukegan, IL 60085-4339. Property owners will have 30 (thirty) days from the date of publication within which to file a complaint regarding their assessment.

Strokes can be prevented if signs known

This year, nearly 500,000 Americans of all ages will have cerebral vascular accidents or "strokes." Stroke is the third leading cause of death in the U.S. and one of the major causes of disability today, leaving survivors with physical, sensory, communication and cognitive impairments that disrupt their lives and the lives of their families.

Many strokes can be prevented or detected before they become serious by knowing a few simple facts and following some common sense guidelines:

Stroke warning signs—

— Sudden, temporary weakness or numbness of face, arm and/or leg on one side of the body.

— Temporary loss of speech or trouble in speaking or understanding speech.

— Temporary dimness or loss of vision, particularly in one eye.

— Unsteadiness or sudden falls or dizziness. These "little strokes" can occur days, weeks or months before a major stroke. Prompt medical or surgical attention may prevent a major stroke.

People with high blood pressure or histories of brief, intermittent stroke episodes are prime candidates for major strokes. Tests may reveal hardening of the arteries and increased cholesterol levels and other fats in the blood. Possible risk factors include excessive alcohol intake, obesity, lack of exercise and heavy smoking.

To lessen the chances of having a stroke, the American Heart Assn. advises individuals to:

— Have blood pressure checked at least once a year. High blood pressure is a major risk factor in stroke.

— Quit smoking. If you don't smoke, don't start.

— Eat wisely. Eat a well-balanced diet low in cholesterol and saturated fats.

— Exercise regularly and sensibly. Avoid a sedentary lifestyle; if overweight, lose weight by eating a low-calorie, well-balanced diet.

— Have regular medical checkups.

For more information about stroke, local stroke survivor group throughout the United States or a free copy of the Stroke Connection newsletter, call the Courage Stroke Network toll-free at 1-800-553-6321. Or write Courage Center, 3915 Golden Valley Road, Golden Valley, MN 55422.

Walk or run to enjoy benefits of growing old

Chances are you may have heard someone say: "I don't care, if I live a day past the age of 60." That's just the way they feel until they reach 59!

The average life span of Americans today is now 71.3 years for men and 78.3 years for women.

While regular exercise is generally recommended for good health, the benefits of ordinary activity are now recognized, as well.

Some fitness experts now report that when it comes to burning off body fat—something almost every one of us is interested in—it's better to walk for an hour than to run for half an hour. They say the low intensity, long duration activity burns body fat better than high intensity short duration activity.

In the Physician and Sports Medicine Journal, Dr. Ronald LaPorte, Graduate School of Public Health, University of Pittsburgh, says people should be more active—sitting is better than lying, walking is better than sitting and so on. He says, complex exercises is not necessary for good results. People will get results with an ordinary activity program.

New medical technology is showing that the benefits of ordinary activity is having far-reaching implications for thousands of people who, up to now, have had difficulty with almost any kind of activity.

About 80,000 people in the U.S. receive single-chamber heart pacemakers each year.

This conventional fixed-rate pacemaker operates at a steady 70 beats per minute regardless of the activity of the wearer. When they do engage in any kind of activity, patients are often tired or short of breath.

Researchers for Medtronic, Inc. in Minneapolis, the world's leading manufacturer of heart pacemakers, tackled the problem and developed the concept of "rate-responsive pacing." The result is the Activitrax pacemaker which contains an "energy sensor" that mimics the heart's normal response to physical activity.

The unit automatically adjusts the heart rate as needed from 60 to 150 beats per minute. For the first time, pacemaker wearers participate in everything from walking to gardening—even dancing, and gain the benefits of ordinary activity.

Activitrax implants have been made on patients as old as 107 years and as young as one day.

On the subject of activity and longevity, it's reported that a Chinese lived for 256 years and a Bolivian for 203 years. The Guinness Book of World Records, says there are only two "little people" on record living past age 100 and both of these were women.

No one really knows how far our life span will eventually be extended, but researchers are studying how long-lived individuals achieved their great age—and how the rest of us might join them!

Financial advice to help weather the golden years

Retirement often means adjusting to a fixed income and altering one's lifestyle in ways never anticipated, says the Illinois CPA Society.

Retirement can radically change financial priorities. Individuals may no longer have to maintain a business wardrobe or pay commuter costs, but credit card debts, mortgage or rent payments and utility bills are likely to continue unchanged. At the same time, entertainment, travel, and medical bills may very well increase. In the past, many people may have counted on promotions or raises to help counter inflation or credit balances. But once retired income may grow only by occasional Social Security cost-of-living increases.

Ultimately, retiring with financial security means handling a fixed income with intelligence and care. Start by examining income and expenses and formulating a realistic budget. With an accurate picture of financial capabilities, consider current lifestyle with or against a budget. Some retirees "live life to the fullest" and spend lavishly on travel and entertainment, without realizing that they may outlive their capital. Other retirees are exceedingly cautious, scrimping and saving whenever possible. Try to avoid either extreme.

For additional help in establishing a budget, consult a financial expert. In many cases, he will be able to analyze your economic situation and estimate how much money you can withdraw from your various investments each month without depleting funds prematurely.

If, after careful consideration, it is decided income is insufficient for your needs, don't despair. There are still options available. Take a part-time job. It is possible to earn several thousand dollars a year without affecting Social Security payments. With a vacation home, consider renting it to others for a portion of the year. Alternatively, convert a garage into a rental apartment. If living in a home originally designed for a growing family, investigate housing alternatives—say, a one-bedroom apartment or a condominium in a retirement community.

Although moving may be a frightening prospect, weigh all the pros and cons before dismissing the idea. After all, moving to another city or state where the cost of living is less expensive can dramatically improve the quality of retirement life.

Another way to stretch fixed income is by being aware of—and planning to minimize—tax liability. Don't forget pension income and IRA withdrawals are taxable. Take out too much money in one year, and possibly, end up paying more taxes than anticipated.

Knowledge of the tax laws can mean more spending power. For example, the new law has replaced the extra personal exemption for people 65 or older, or blind, with an extra standard deduction of $750 for single individuals and $600 for married individuals. The amount of the additional deduction doubles for those people meeting both age and blindness requirements.

Medical expenses are still deductible, but only to the extent that they exceed 7½ percent of your adjusted gross income. Keep this information in mind, and time annual check-ups and certain foreseeable medical expenses to take full advantage of the deduction. If considering selling a home, find out if eligible for the once-in-a-lifetime, tax-free gain of $125,000 on the sale. A CPA will be able to further explain the various tax benefits available to older Americans.

Friendly card game

Mosquito menace curbed by rain

It may be that "A rose is a rose, is a rose", but a mosquito is not a mosquito, is not a mosquito. More specifically, the species known biologically as Aedes vexans is not Culex pipiens is not Aedes albopictus.

With the extended dry spell now being experienced, the familiar Aedes vexans, the biting floodwater mosquito, has been reduced to far less than the usual horde. But out of sight should not be out of mind. Those that breed in containers, Culex pipiens, are emerging far earlier than usual. Culex nurseries can be found in any stagnant standing water such as cans, tires, wading pools and catch basins. More than the name is different. The threat usually is limited to annoyance and the possible spread of dog heartworm. Pipiens is the carrier of St. Louis encephalitis.

Light traps used by biologists provide an annoyance index. The average person suffers two bites every five minutes when more than 20 female vexans are trapped overnight. Pipiens, however, are not as attracted to light. Last year, certain traps averaged 80 vexans to 13 pipiens.

Clerk resigns

ROUND LAKE BEACH---Village Clerk Becky Fox offered her resignation at Tuesday's board meeting. She said she was resigning because of pressure from the mayor and board of trustees.

Bad press?

FOX LAKE---Reputed drug dealer John Cappas of southwest Chicago spent what may have been his last free weekend in a long time in the Fox Lake area on a boat. That led some local officials to bemoan the "bad press." Others, however, look at it as Mayor William Dam docs: "What more beautiful place to spend your last hours than Fox Lake?"

Okay administrator

LAKE VILLA---Hiring of a village administrator will begin by a village board committee named to institute the search. Mayor Joyce Frayer disagrees with the concept, saying only three employees outside of the village hall would fall under the jurisdiction of an administrator. Several trustees admit they do not have the day-to-day time to administer, so they want to manage. "They never should have run for office if this is the way they feel," the mayor said.

Plan new center

LAKE ZURICH---Plans were unveiled this week for massive 430,000-square-foot shopping center with more than 100 stores on 45 acres at the northeast corner of Rte. 12 and Cuba Rd. behind the White Hen Pantry. Hamilton Partners Inc. of Itasca made the surprise announcement at Tuesday's board meeting.

Ponder annexation

NORTH CHICAGO---The City of North Chicago may soon be home to a new hotel planned for the corner of Buckley Rd. and Waukegan Ave. (Rte. 43). North Chicago City Council members discussed the possible annexation of the 19-acre parcel at a committee meeting Tuesday. City Atty. William Rosing said Woodfield Estates development firm is seeking M-1 or light industrial zoning for the site.

Tax hike deceptive

FOX LAKE---The amount of the Village of Fox Lake's tax levy has increased by 26.5 percent to near $1.2 million, but officials say that individuals will not face that kind of rise in their own bills. The tax rate has not gone up, but the estimate of assessed valuation has.

School rebellion?

LINDENHURST---Lindenhurst residents in Millburn School Dist. 24, who have the highest tax rate the village, should think about petitioning to join Antioch Grade School Dist. 34, Mayor Robert Ratch said. He noted that taxes in the Millburn district are higher than elsewhere in the village because there is little or no commercial property to offset tax bills or contribute to the village sales tax. Taxes also rose this year because voters approved a referendum last fall for a building addition. Annexation to Antioch was tried two years ago, but the petitions fell short of gathering sufficient signatures. Even if such a move did succeed, those joining the new district would still be responsible for taxes and bond issues incurred while they were residents.

Where's sewers?

LAKE VILLA---Village board members think they should do something about an election issue of four years ago--sewers. Several trustees noted at last week's meeting that the need for more and better sewer service has progressed no further than long and involved discussions. The village is tentatively thinking of joining the Northeast Regional Plant in Fox Lake, but has stopped short of ordering its engineer to draw plans or decide how the $1,200 per home hookups should be underwritten.

Put on hold

VERNON HILLS---A group of residents living in a subdivision adjacent to a proposed light industrial development attended a meeting of the Village Board of Vernon Hills only to find out the item they wished to address had been removed from the agenda. Officials of L.J. Hooker, the developer of the project, were not in attendance at the meeting, and therefore no action could be taken.

Bands, Sox playing

MUNDELEIN---Student bands from Dist. 75 and West Oak Middle School are set to play at Yamaha Band Day at Comiskey Park prior to a White Sox game. A total of 18 bands from the Chicagoland area will have a chance to play their instruments on the field and then climb into the stands and watch the Sox play a night game.

Seeks mayor

GRAYSLAKE---The Grayslake citizens group known as GRASS (Grayslake Residents Assn. to Save Open Space) will be endorsing and supporting a slate of candidates for the four open trustee positions in Grayslake municipal elections in 1989.

GRASS spokesperson Melinda Willen said the group is presently looking for a person to head the ticket for mayor. Current Mayor Edwin Schroeder has made no definite statement, but is expected not to seek re-election.

Want change

ANTIOCH---Lindenhurst Mayor Robert Ratch is again calling for the Millburn Grade School Dist. 24 to be annexed to the Antioch Grade School Dist. 34. Ratch claims that the high tax rate in Dist. 24, indigenous only to residents of that district, is giving all of Lindenhurst a black eye. The low tax base in Dist. 24 is blamed for the high taxes. Both Supt. Don Skidmore, Dist. 34, and Supt. Lee Smithey say that a move to Antioch will not cure the tax problems for Lindenhurst residents living in Dist. 24 since they will take the present bond indebtedness with them for the next 15 years.

CLC adopts budget, seeks tax increase

The College of Lake County Board of Trustees approved two important related resolutions—the adoption of the 1988-89 budget and the call for a tax rate referendum to be held Nov. 8.

At the Aug. 16 meeting, the board for the first time in college history approved a budgeted deficit. The total budget for operating funds (which includes the education fund and operation, building and maintenance funds) is $19,608,363, while revenues stand at $18,850,363, making the deficit for the upcoming fiscal year $758,000.

Projections by the college show that if the present funding situation should continue, the accumulated deficit will reach more than $10 million by 1994. College officials cite a 20-year-old tax rate and shortfalls in state funding for the budget imbalance, which has occurred in spite of college efforts to cut back spending and defer costs.

Citing the college's serious financial condition, the board voted to place a proposition on the

Nov. 8 ballot calling for an increase of seven cents per $100 assessed value in the education fund and four cents per $100 assessed value for the operation, buildings and maintenance fund. If passed, the tax increase would be the first since the college was established in 1967 with a total tax rate of 19 cents per $100 of assessed value.

"Tuition increases and expenditure reductions are not enough," said Arthur Kent, vice president of administrative affairs. "New funding is required if the college is to maintain the quality and level of service it provides to the county."

Foster family picnic Sunday

Central Baptist Family Services is hosting the 11th annual Foster Family Picnic on Sunday, Sept. 11, on the grounds in Lake Villa on Rte. 83 from noon until 3 p.m.

Central Baptist Family Services is a non-sectarian, not-for-profit child welfare agency that provides foster care services for children residing in Lake and McHenry Counties.

Foster parents are special people and the picnic is one way the agency can express their thanks and deep appreciation for the caring concern these people offer to hundreds of neglected and abandoned children.

There is a critical shortage of foster parents, and homes are needed for children living in these counties who are unable to reside with their own families for temporary periods of time.

For additional information on foster parenting or the picnic, call (312)356-1021.

Mobile homeowners association to meet

The Northeast Lake County Mobile Homeowners Assn. will be meeting on Sunday, Sept. 11 at 2 p.m. in the Community Room at Lakehurst Mall.

Special guest will be

Jan Frayer, Parliamentarian for Mobile Homeowners of Illinois and Judge Advocate of Chapter 23 from Island Homes, Island Village in Chicago.

Dan Weston is luckier than most young people who begin the new school year with happy memories of a summer camp experience. He will get to reminisce about two summer camps he attended.

In July, he was part of Antioch's Boy Scouts of America Troop 92 two-week summer encampment at Michigan's Camp Owasippe.

In August, he joined about 75 other youth from throughout the country for a week at the NASA Space Camp/Space Academy in Huntsville, Ala.

The son of Richard and Carolann Weston of Lindenhurst, Dan participated in the Space Academy Level One program. NASA Space Camp is designed for grades four through seven. NASA Space Academy consists of three levels—Level One for eighth to 10th grades; Level Two for 11th and 12th grades; and Level Three for adults.

On the first day, his group toured the Huntsville facilities and completed tests to determine the roles each would learn and practice during the next three days. On the second day, the group had fun experiencing a variety of simulators and watching films.

postal hours

Window service hours at the Antioch Post Office, reduced about one-half day a week last February in response to the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act, will be restored on Saturday, Sept. 10 in a way that "best meets customers' need locally," according to Postmaster Jerry Parish.

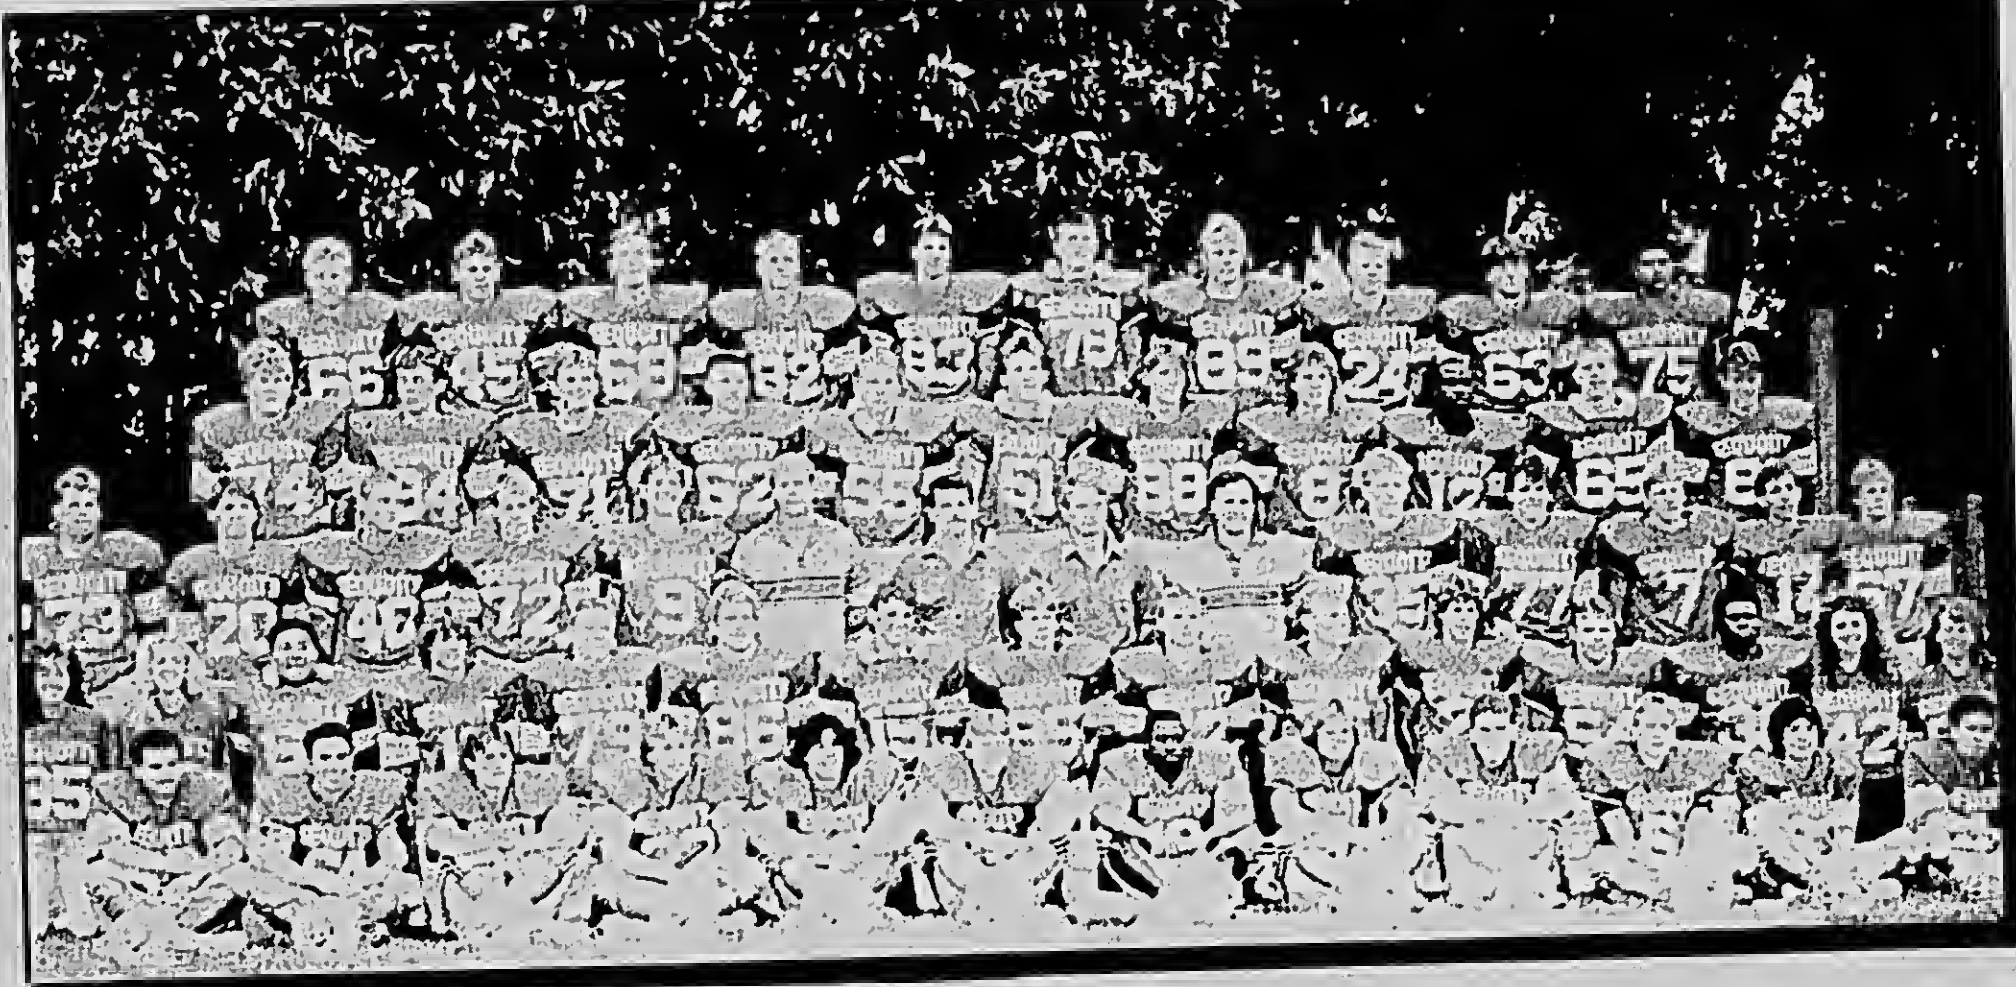

The new service hours will be Monday to Friday 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Saturday, 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. effective Sept. 10.

The window schedule in effect since February has been Monday to Friday 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., and Saturday 8:30 a.m. to 12 p.m.

"The Postmaster General announced in July that savings generated by other actions, primarily internal, would be sufficient to meet the requirements of the Budget Act, and that post offices could restore window service according to local postal needs," Postmaster Jerry Parish said.

Postmaster Parish said that he met with managers at the North Suburban Division to evaluate needs in Antioch and to determine the service that will be restored.

"The intent was not to just retreat to the old hours, but to actually determine what will be best for postal service in Antioch."

his role as mission control spacecraft systems officer, Weston monitored fuel levels and took charge of retracting the walkway to the shuttle and the fueling arm for the external tanks. The Space Academy participants graduated on the sixth day.

In retrospect, Weston believes that the most important and most pleasant part of his experience was learning how a simulated shuttle launch occurs. The most difficult part was practicing the many components of his role in the mission simulation.

Lots of dirty laundry college student returns

By CAROLYN HAMMOND
(312)395-6081

Well, the dirty laundry came home right on schedule, as predicted, along with the college freshmen. "Hope you don't mind, Mom," he said. What he didn't know (or perhaps does know), is that he isn't the first to think of doing this. The same scene probably was multiplied by the millions over Labor Day weekend.

Now comes the routine of driving hundreds of miles over a weekend in order to save a few dollars in bus fare. Never mind the wear and tear to good old Dad's car. A course in economics would probably in order here—"Si la vi!"

"It went very well. We're very happy with the whole reorganization process," said Harlan Ware, principal of the Antioch Grade School, when asked how all the children from the different schools were adapting to their new surroundings. The first week after the recent grade leveling process sent hundreds of children to other school buildings in Dist. 34.

"We are in the process, too, of reorganizing our P.T.O.," mentioned Ware. For more information concerning working with this group, please call the school office at (312)395-0845.

The schools aren't wasting any time, either, before meeting with parents. Antioch Grade School held an open house on Sept. 7 to introduce parents to the school and the new situation. It looks as if all this preparation and organization has made for a smooth transition—congratulations.

Of course, it probably has been harder on parents who have children in three or more different schools. Imagine the scene in a home with a family of youngsters in K-3, 4 or 5, 6-8, and high school? Oh, that's got to be confusing.

that go way back. An open house at the Tower Room, Rte. 173, Antioch, will be held in their honor from 2 to 5 p.m. on Sunday, Sept. 11. All their friends are invited to attend. Please, no gifts. If Don and Wilma have touched your life in any way, please come and celebrate this important day with them.

Sunday, Sept. 11, will be an important day for the future gridiron stars of the Antioch Viking Football organization.

Notes & News

Yet, the possibility always existed before with the three levels. Every three-child family usually got hit with the problem at least once. (Si la vi!)

Parents, do you have kids in band? Then you won't want to miss belonging to a very important group dedicated to keeping the band program at its outstanding level. Join the organization at its first meeting of the school year at 7:30 p.m., Sept. 13, at the Antioch Upper Grade School cafeteria.

Congratulations to Don and Wilma Gibbs, lifetime residents of Antioch, on their 50 years of marriage. Don was born in Richmond, but has lived most of his life in Antioch. Wilma was born and raised here. In this mobile society where people move every five years or so, it's nice to see someone with roots

It's opening day of the 1988 season!

In the Featherweight In-House League: The Bears vs. Eagles at 1 p.m., and the Raiders vs. SeaHawks immediately following the first game.

In the Junior-Leighweight and Senior-Heavyweight Leagues: Antioch will be at home vs. McHenry. Game time is 12:45 p.m.-Lightweights, and 2:15 p.m.-Heavyweights. All home games are played at the Antioch High School.

"We are looking forward to a great season and hope the kids enjoy themselves," said Nick Pappadakis, president, Antioch Vikings. "This year has seen record registration at all levels."

Good luck to the Vikings and their older counterparts, the Antioch Sequoias. May 1988 be your year!

Lyons and Ryan strive to be best in area

While many large Chicago area dealers try to brag about how many cars they sell, Lyons Ryan Ford-Lincoln-Mercury, Antioch, is officially the areas number one leader in customer service.

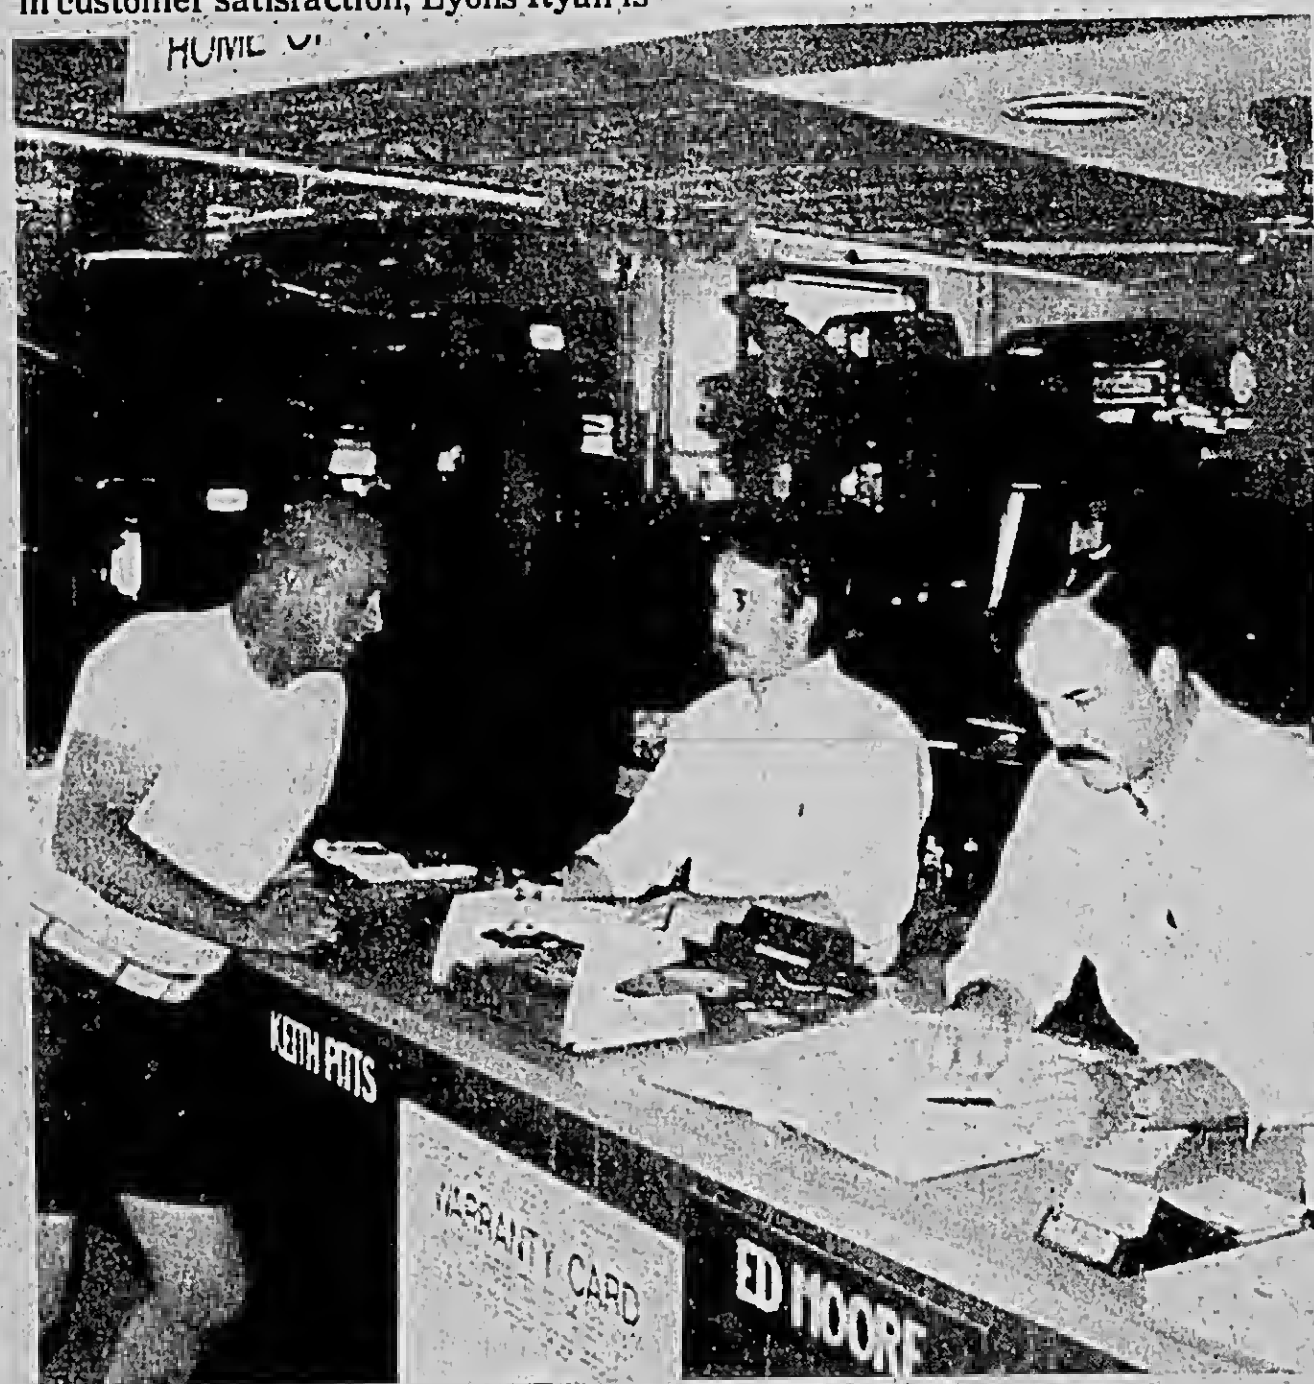

This impressive distinction is the result of customer responses to Ford's Q.C.P. (Quality Commitment Performance) surveys.

Although Lyons Ryan is located in rural Antioch, the competition Lyons Ryan has beaten includes some of the Chicago areas largest and most notable dealerships.

At a time when Ford Motor Co. has put such tremendous corporate interest in customer satisfaction, Lyons Ryan is now currently on track to achieve Fords honored "Presidents Award" for service.

This process has not been without much hard work and attitude readjusting. Bob Kouba, service manager of Lyons Ryan, says, "We're all a team here at Lyons Ryan with one goal in mind, customer satisfaction. Our employees are proud of our reputation in Ford's Q.C.P. ratings but we don't stop at that, we strive to give the customer what they want, weekly budget minded specials, custom muffler service, quick lubrication counter, and our new upcoming automatic car wash. All meet the needs of today's car owner. At Lyons Ryan Ford the customer is No. 1 with us."

New teams are formed each evening. The fee for this eight-week program is $20. Participants must be high school graduates and are requested to bring their own basketball.

Also, Pat O'Donnell, girls' gym coach, will supervise an eight-week instructional program which begins Sept. 10.

New officers for the group will be elected and installed at this time. If you think about it, the photos in this ad could have been a little different.

It'd be quite natural to assume that our bankers wear the same grey pinstripes, white button-downs and yellow ties to work each day.

But while that may or may not be the case, the most important thing you'll notice about us has little to do with apparel.

And more to do with our attitude.

That's why we've introduced the Satisfied Customer Guarantee.

True, it's not a new idea. We've been treating people right for years.

Except now we're backing it up. Putting it in writing, as they say.

Which means, if you have a problem with us, we'll solve it.

Or if you have a question about any facet of our service, we'll gladly answer it.

And if for any reason you're not satisfied, we'll do everything we can to reach a solution.

The basic point being, we want you to be happy with us. No matter what.

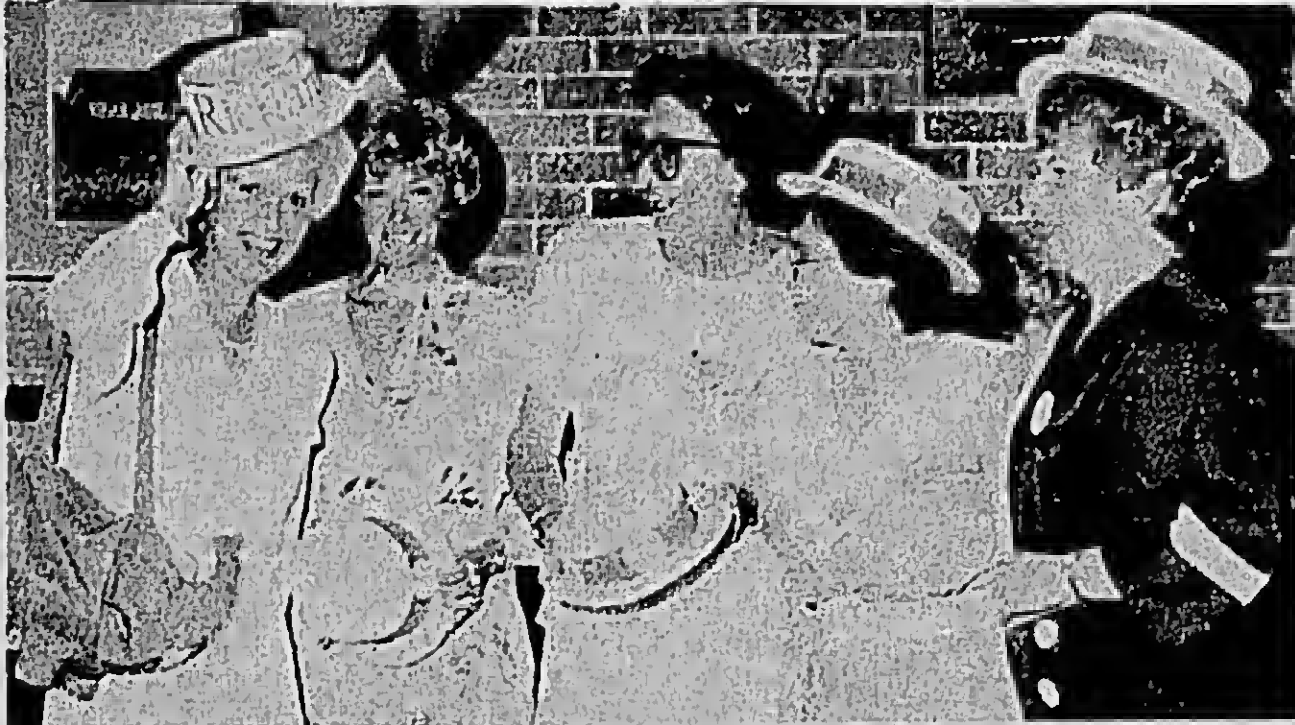

So stop by any of our locations and pick up a copy of the Satisfied Customer Guarantee.

Eliminating secrecy

Illinois has model legislation to ensure that public business is kept public. The Illinois Open Meetings Act has worked pretty well over the years, accomplishing what it was intended to do—prevent public officials from doing public business secretly.

The act provides for three legal exceptions—allowing elected officials to discuss land acquisition, personnel matters and pending legislation behind closed doors. The exceptions are vital to the workings of the Open Meetings Act. The legal exceptions, nonetheless, "open the door" to closing the door. As State Rep. John S. Matijevich notes elsewhere on this page, executive sessions are used to hold briefings on other matters or "grease" business that might cause the officials discomfort or difficulty if properly conducted in the open.

What Matijevich didn't point out is that more and more elected bodies are abusing the letter and intent of the Open Meetings Act. Some boards are so contemptuous of the Open Meetings Act that executive (secret) sessions are regular agenda items. Matijevich aims to protect those courageous elected officials who would dare to reveal the contents of phony secret meetings performed under the exclusions of the Open Meetings Act.

Matijevich is to be lauded for planning necessary amendments to the Illinois Open Meetings Act that will eliminate abuses. With protection guaranteed for elected leaders who won't go along with illegal secret meetings, abuses will be reduced greatly or, hopefully, eliminated.

Let non-residents speak

Twice within the past several weeks local villages have been confronted with identical questions in dealing with annexation matters—how much voice should be given to non-resident neighbors?

While the question is not new, the issue is certain to come up with greater frequency in the future as village boundaries push closer together in this era of rapidly disappearing unincorporated territory due to the press of urbanization.

To their credit, both Mayor Ken McGill of Wauconda and Mayor Edwin Schroeder of Grayslake provided residents of neighboring unincorporated territory adjacent to the proposed annexation to speak out in public debate. Should the non-residents have a say, and how much influence should they have in the business of the incorporated village? In both cases, the non-residents seemed more interested than residents—and voters—in the respective villages.

In the Grayslake question, non-resident neighbors professed mutual concern about growth and development policies, and voiced a "singleness" of viewpoint with their neighbors to whom the elected officials are responsible. In the Wauconda question, non-resident neighbors expressed the feeling of a "right" to be heard.

Technically, the elected officials don't have to give a hoot about non-voters, but as a matter of practical politics, it's probably good policy to accept their input. While the non-resident neighbors frequently are points of irritation to village officials, particularly in annexation matters, village leaders know full well that in the next annexation go-round, today's non-residents could very well become tomorrow's new constituents—and voters.

Degrees of 'fury'

Officials are using a new catch phrase in the war on drugs. They're talking about the "combined fury of law enforcement" in attacking drug traffic.

Last month, more than 1,200 people were arrested in a 30-nation drug crackdown. Centered in the United States and South and Central America, the operation led to the seizure of 11 tons of cocaine and the destruction of 244 tons of marijuana, 118,000 coca plants and 13 cocaine laboratories. Authorities also demolished seven hidden airstrips and seized $3.8 million in cash.

Quite a haul, to be sure. In Florida, Arizona and Texas, National Guardsmen (Quayle-bashers, take note) helped inspect 6,000 vehicles and seized marijuana. This is "combined fury".

We're not so sure, though, that this effort, unprecedented as it is in intensity and reach, will make much of a dent. In truth, probably none. The drug network is so far-reaching, so entwined in society, that it is capable of regenerating itself and dealing with exactly the multi-nation law enforcement effort that is described as combined fury.

Until that fury can be unleashed right here in our community where pushers are pushing and users are using every day, the war on drugs will have the force of a gnat landing on an elephant. More and more, citizens are advocating drastic measures such as life imprisonment for minor drug offenses and capital punishment for more serious drug crimes. Locking up the kid next door who is hooked on drugs for 30 years, or providing the death penalty for the drug supplier in our local schools is in line with the thinking of a growing number of Americans. That would be "combined fury".

Legislate 'grease' out of Open Meetings Act

by JOHN S. MATIJEVICH

One of my recent columns referred to legislation which further tightens the Open Meetings Act. On reading about it, a constituent who attends, as a public citizen observer, most of the school board meetings in Waukegan, called me to say that there is another problem.

She said that some boards, through their rules or policies, apply pressures or intimidation so that board members are reluctant to "speak out" if matters are discussed in closed meetings that really should be handled out in the open. The local board has a "policy of confidentiality" which subjects a board member or employee to reprimand or prosecution if he disclosed "conversations, averments or other things" which were discussed in closed meetings.

The prosecution would be under Chapter 38, or what we call the "criminal code", under the official misconduct section. It carries a Class 3 felony penalty.

Now, I can see why any elected public body might adopt a policy protecting personnel or other issues discussed in legitimate closed meetings. The problem is that the policy should not restrict a board member from disclosing conversations or other things that go beyond the scope of the closed meeting. More importantly, I don't believe that a board should adopt a policy that can backfire on them. In other words, mandating confidentiality in all "executive sessions or closed meetings," when such meetings might "cross over the border" to what is the business of the public.

When I looked at the policy, I agreed with the constituent that one might read a degree of intimidation into it. After all, mention of the "state's attorney" and "Chapter 38" is enough to scare off some bold public officials, let alone the timid souls.

The public official who needs protection, I believe, is the board member who discloses what goes on in executive or closed sessions that should have been discussed in public. I believe, and intend to introduce, a bill that provides no school board or other local government policy shall in any way restrict a member of that body from disclosing conversations or things that should be discussed in open session, even though that body is meeting in closed session.

My constituent said that the board has regularly scheduled executive sessions that run concurrently with regular meetings. Evidently, there are enough suspensions, terminations, or other personnel matters to schedule the "closed meetings". It is obvious, she said, that the executive sessions are used to brief and "grease" the business to be handled in the regular, or open, meeting.

I commend the constituent who contacted me. When I wrote the prior column, I said that citizens have an obligation, too. She did her job, and I intend to follow up with appropriate legislation.

Editor's Note: State Rep. John Matijevich writes regularly about legislative topics. A Democrat, Matijevich represents the 61st Dist., which includes Waukegan and North Chicago.

Reassuring toots becoming part of local history

by BILL SCHROEDER

Another special interest group has scored a knockout victory over tradition and bureaucracy.

The stop-the-whistle lobby successfully obtained a ban on all whistle-tooting and horn-blowing by railroads at nearly all the train crossings in Illinois equipped with automatic flashing signals or gates.

Suburbanites now can enjoy a full night's sleep.

Locally, residents of Vernon Hills and Lake Villa who were especially vocal in the stop-the-whistle campaign should be recovering from insomnia by now. The Illinois Commerce Commission, more noted for pondering than dispatch, moved quickly to silence the trains once the provisions of an unnoticed transportation bill signed by Gov. Thompson came into focus.

I'm one guy who's going to miss train whistles. Sometimes I'd hear the first toot of the day shortly after 5 a.m., and sometimes I'd hear the last blast of the horn about 2 a.m. I never regarded the Milwaukee Road train whistle as noise. It was more like the reassuring sound made by surf, so highly regarded by fans of the seashore; or the shattering clatter of a passing El train, the reminder to Chicagoans that this is life in the big city. You learn to live with those kinds of sounds—they're part of your life.

So, goodbye old friend of the Milwaukee Road. I'll see you, but I won't hear you any more.

BACK TO SCHOOL—The campus contingent at Lakeland Newspapers is back at school. Five young people, all earning while learning, spent the summer with us. They did a super job as young newspaper people and we'll miss them. Kathy King (Carmel), who handled switchboard and billing duties, returned to Marquette University for more engineering studies. Sue Ludwig (Salem Central), classified advertising, is continuing communications education at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. Two fledgling journalists can put their summer newsgathering work to practical use—Chls Laubach (Wauconda) at Southern Illinois University, and Randi Ostro (Grayslake) at Northwestern. Bob Schroeder (Carmel) worked in display advertising and will be majoring in advertising at Purdue. Come back and see us, kids.

Letters To The Editor

Need landfill controls

Editor:
As one senior to another, about the only thing I share with Dick Whittington is his enthusiasm for recycling. By the recycling of newspaper, cans and bottles and by composting clippings, vegetable peels, etc., the amount of trash we set out for pick-up is one-third what it used to be. I also buy only soap powder for laundry and dishwasher. It disturbs me that there is so much plastic waste today.

Mr. Whittington has only disdain for CLEAR. In my opinion, this group gives more advice and tips on how to go about recycling than any other. He thinks that bad landfills are better than none. Well, the Federal EPA had ruled that we must spend millions to clean up the bad landfill we all ready have. No more "bad" landfills, please.

He also sneers at "knee jerk opposition" to landfills and asks what we propose to do with Lake County's solid waste. I propose that we insist that Lake County has properly constructed, properly monitored landfills, incinerators, where indicated, operated at temperatures high enough to insure they do not add to the pollution in the air. I propose that these landfills be located as near as possible to the source of solid waste—that is, that the cities in Lake County have nearby sites for garbage so that it is not hauled all over the county to be deposited in some one else's neighborhood.

Above all, I propose that other cities, counties, and states be forbidden to haul their waste to Lake County, as both ARF and Waste Management have plans to do.

We have all been awaiting the recommendations of the Lake County Solid Waste Planning Agency hoping that this group is sensitive to the needs and wishes of the people who live here. Profit is of course, the top priority of these companies who are now attempting to open and enlarge landfills in central Lake County. If all the members of the agency are as contemptuous of the public as Mr. Whittington appears to be, maybe we are hoping in vain.

Stinking eyesore

Editor:
Central Lake County is again being asked to let ourselves be dumped on. Waste Management, Inc. is applying to the Lake County Board for after being turned down by the Board, the Illinois EPA Pollution Control Board and the Illinois Appellate Court. Although an incinerator is not being considered in this application, a map in the application shows an area on the site labeled "expansion and/or resource recovery facility," the latter being another name for an incinerator. The liner called for this time for the landfill may for some, instill confidence. For me this addition raises some serious questions about Waste Management's future plans for the site.

ARF Landfill Corp. is applying to the Lake County Board for permission to more than double the height of their operation. Last year's application was also turned down by the County Board, the Illinois EPA Pollution Control Board and the Appellate Court. At great expense, virtually the same hearing took place just a little over a year ago.

Again we are being asked to accommodate the disposal needs of parts of Cook County and suburbs south and west of here. According to testimony from a Waste Management witness, Lake County generates 1.6 million cubic yards of garbage per year; however, almost twice that much, 3.1 million cubic yards per year, gets dumped in Lake County. Although Lake County municipalities will have first dibbs at this landfill, Waste Management would be allowed to haul more garbage in from outside the County.

The situation is not hopeless and you are not helpless. Please write your county board member now and urge them to deny these two applications. Ten years ago ARF was a hole in the ground and there was no public outcry to deny their application to start what has today become what many consider to be an ugly, stinking eyesore in our county.

Politically speaking . . .

by Joseph Soulak

As well intended as the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. might be, it is not scoring too many points with officials of area municipalities. They would just as soon the district go out of business and stop its drive for open space at almost any price.

Grayslake Mayor Edwin Schroeder feels this way about the purchase of the 1,300-acre Picket Fence Farm just as the village was to annex it.

The same is true of Mayor Robert Ratch of Lindenhurst. The district began condemnation plans of 60 acres the village was ready to annex and rezone. The developer planned to donate 57 acres of wetland, which the village, in turn, was going to donate to the forest preserve people. Now, the people of Lake County will pay good tax money to buy this land.

Waukegan and Wadsworth almost came to blows with the forest preserve over who was going to get the 500-acre Stiles Farm at DeLany and Yorkhouse Rds. No sooner did these two communities start talking annexation than the forest preserve people began eyeing it for their own.

It is reported the ambitious land acquisition program of the forest preserve will cost $100 million this year alone. That's a lot of taxes from new homes.

Mayor Joyce Frayer of Lake Villa tells it like it is. An elected official for eight years, six and one-half of them as mayor, she isn't sure if she will run for that job or village trustee next spring. "I'd like my vote back," she said of being able to speak her piece and vote on matters that come before the council rather than merely being a quarterback.

Her husband, Alan, is the voting member of the family on the Lake Villa Grade School Board of Education. He has served there for about six years since going to one meeting, volunteering for a committee and, eventually, was appointed to the board.

"Joyce got into politics after I had gone to school, done my thing and the children were raised," Alan said. "Then, the school board appointment just happened."

The two say they don't mix home and politics, particularly where their elective jobs might be involved. That could have happened this summer when a local rhubarb developed about closing a village street for extension of a school playground. As it turned out, residents are close to reaching a compromise with the school board.

COMING EVENTS: FREEBIE—Meet State's Atty. Fred Foreman on Friday, Sept. 9, from 5 to 7 p.m. in the Burgundy Room, 215 Washington St., Waukegan. It's all free. First of a series of similar campaign appearances throughout the county from now until election day.

STEER ROAST—Annual steer roast of Lake County Republican Central Committee on Sunday, Sept. 11, at Holy Mother of God Serbian Monastery on Rte. 45 between Grand Ave. and Washington St. Serving starts at 1 p.m. and continues until 5 p.m. Elephant and pony rides also available. Cost is $5, which includes hamburger, potato chips, tomato and corn.

FUND RAISER—Gene Morris of Lake Villa, who has some stiff competition for County Board representative from Dist. 4, is holding a pizza and beer fund raiser on Wednesday, Sept. 14, at Ron and Pat's Pizza Shack, Deep Lake Rd., Antioch. The fun runs from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. Cost is $5.

It must be election time. At least it is for Congressman Phillip Crane (R-Arlington Heights) of the 12 Dist. One week ago he held a forum at the College of Lake County. This week he hosted a second luncheon for area newsmen within six weeks. The latest chance for the media to have a politician pick up the tab was nothing to sneeze at. It was at the exquisite Country Squire near Grayslake.

One candidate for state senator is pulling out all stops to get your vote. He is Herbert (Herb) Gorrell of Lake Bluff, who is running as a Democrat against David Barkhausen (R-Lake Forest) in the 30th Dist. First, he has taken a urine test to show that he is a drug-free man. He says all other candidates for office should do the same.

Second, he has signed a notarized document promising not to vote for any revenue or tax increases if elected. "How many others can say or, even, will do that?" he asks. "One of the GOP platform planks is not to raise taxes. The Democrats said at their convention they will not do so unless absolutely necessary. But these are only verbal contracts. Mine is a legal, binding, written and notarized one. If elected and I broke my promise I could, possibly, be sued and, certainly, not re-elected." Gorrell, a retired Navy chief gunner's mate, challenges other candidates to do the same.

Whenever someone throws a party they like that little extra, a flourish so to speak. That's what happened at the annual Burgers and Brew outing of Lake County Treasurer Jack Anderson. This year's event, like every year, was held Aug. 31 at Blarney Island on Grass Lake.

Everyone was having a good time drinking beer and eating hamburgers in the dusk of a beautiful summer afternoon sun. Then it happened. A small seaplane making practice landings piloted by Gurnee funeral home director John Salata flipped. He made about five landings when it happened about 7:30 p.m. Between the coming and going of sheriff's deputies, rescue personnel and gawkers, it was a standing-room only crowd. Anderson would be just as pleased if that didn't happen again.

An interesting slate has been formed for next spring's elections in Lake Villa Twp. Howard "Bud" Scott, an educator in west Lake County since 1960 now at Grant High School, has formed the Unity Party. Scott, 53, wants dearly to get back into township politics where he was a visible figure from 1977 to 1984.

Joining him on the well-balanced ticket are Millard Schneider forer road commissioner, who held this job from 1981 to 1984; Dave Skinner, chairman of the township Republican Party, for assessor; Nicholas "Nick" Manusos for township clerk; and trustees Phil Cappitelli, Steven Coles (son of one-time Supervisor Ronald Coles), Jean Montrimas and Chris Veldka, chairman of the township Democratic Party.

None of the tickets, if there are any, in next March's primary can be called incumbent. Supervisor Dorothy Thompson is retiring and those in office with her are either going to do the same or run independently.

Asked if any of her fellow Township Improvement Party members are going to come out of their closet, she said, "I don't talk to newspapers." Road Commissioner James Semerling did confirm he will run as independent.

Anniversary party

Resolution by Lindenhurst Village Board saluting 20th anniversary of College of Lake County is presented by Mayor Robert Ratch, left, to Charles Schulze, vice president of development and executive director of the college foundation. "Learning to Make a Difference" is the theme of the college's yearlong observance with more than 100 activities and events.

Sept. 21 marks the 100th year of the Avon Centre Cemetery Assn.

B.C. Drury, G.A. Gilmore and Emory Adams petitioned the State of Illinois on behalf of the cemetery to become a non-profit organization on Sept. 21, 1888. There were burials at the site before this date—records show that a Mr. Rowling was buried there in 1850.

Mr. and Mrs. Churchill Edwards sold one and one-sixteenth acre of land for $58 to the newly formed Avon Centre Burial Grounds on April 4, 1863. Mr. and Mrs. William Edwards sold land to the cemetery on Feb. 21, 1903. The cemetery purchased land on Nov. 23, 1925, from Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lyons. Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Hook sold land to the cemetery in 1971 and again in 1976.

The following people have served in the past as directors of Avon Centre Cemetery: B.C. Drury, Viola Burge, George Gilmore, William Wilton, Jane Edwards, Benjamin Drury, Lemuel Edwards, V.L. Emery, Fred Hucker, William Cremin, Liddia Edwards, William Doolittle, Frank Cremin, Belle Cremin, William Leng, L.A. Burge, John Hook and George Churchill.

Frank Cremin served in all capacities on the Avon Centre Cemetery Board from 1924 until his death in 1973. At that time, his daughter, Ruth Cremin Varner, was elected president. Mrs. Varner retired this past May after being a director since 1947.

George Smiskol worked for the cemetery for many years. When he retired, Elbert Scales took over the groundskeeping position. Emil Buehler has been the manager of the cemetery since 1974.

Through generous donations from various families and organizations, many improvements have been made to the cemetery grounds. A memorial marker and a flagpole were installed and dedicated to honor all present and future veterans interred in the cemetery. Veteran organizations from Grayslake, Lake Villa and Round Lake contributed to this project.

Avon Centre Cemetery started out small and has grown over the years. The present board of directors are Russell McNeil, Emil Buehler, William McNeill, Karen Hook, William Churchill and Doug Gwaltney. The present board hopes to keep this cemetery "country" to meet the needs of the surrounding area.

Editor's note: This article was prepared by Karen Hook, director of the cemetery association and a member of a pioneer Avon Twp. family.

New auto dealership, old story

by JOSEPH SOULAK

Lake County's newest businesses is also among the oldest. It is Lake Villa Chrysler-Plymouth at 130 Cedar Ave., Lake Villa.

Formerly Hucker Chrysler-Plymouth, the business goes back more than 80 years when the dealership was known as Hucker's Horseless Carriage and Sales. Murals on the two larger walls of the dealership detail the main street of Lake Villa from that era plus a more modern day.

Today the dealership is owned by partners Paul Bach and Marvin Miller, who have owned Lake County Chrysler-Plymouth in Waukegan at Green Bay Rd. and Rte. 120 since 1979.

"This business became available," Bach said of the sale last April by the Hucker family. "It was an opportunity not to be passed up. We see tremendous growth for this part of Lake County and want to be part of it. There is a real future here. We want to be a part of it."

Bach, 42, who was a Chrysler Corp. service representative calling on dealers in eastern Iowa and the Chicago suburbs for many years, knows the automobile business from top to bottom. "I think I know what it takes to make a top-notch dealership," he said. "I certainly have worked with enough of them over the years."

Beginning with new cars, Lake Villa Chrysler-Plymouth offers selection, value and price, Bach said. The same is true of the many trade-ins the dealership takes in on new cars. General Manager Mike Lesser makes certain everything goes right in the showroom as well as the shop. Working with him out front with customers are three sales representatives: Gene Levin, Mike Ricard and Mike Provenzano.

"After each sale we make sure to service what we sell," Bach said. "We want to keep customers happy. I want

Sales up in every region

Illinois retail sales rose 3.63 percent in July over the same month a year ago.

All three geographic regions reported modest gains in July. Metropolitan Chicago reported the highest gain of 4.09 percent, followed by

Small business center offers many services

The College of Lake County board heard from Arthur Cobb, director of CLC's Small Business Development Center, on services available. Part of the Center for Economic Development, the SBDC serves as a focal point for delivering federal, state and local resources to the small business community.

Services available to new and existing small business owners or entrepreneurs include consultation in business start-up/acquisition; sources of capital; marketing and sales; financial analysis; government procurement; and engineering, research, development and technology.

Old is new at dealership

New team at Lake Villa Chrysler-Plymouth is led by owner Paul Bach, standing left. Next to him, from left, are Sales Manager Mike Lesser and salesmen Mike Provenzano and Gene Levin. The business at 130 Cedar Ave. is the former Hucker Chrysler-Plymouth, which has been a Lake Villa fixture since the days when it was known as Hucker Horseless Carriage.

zero beefs. This way it is hoped customers will tell their family, friends and neighbors. That's good advertising. To take care of this end of the business there are five fully-trained mechanics.

"You don't necessarily get the best deal at the biggest dealership," Bach said in offering a word of advice to future car buyers. "The smaller dealers want to grow, too, and the only way they can do that is by selling. Besides that, there is not as much overhead at a small dealership."

Bach is proud of the Chrysler-Plymouth cars his two dealerships sell. "You can't beat the technology," he said. "And there is something for everyone."

The style, model and price range begins with the Plymouth line's Horizon at under $6,000 and continues through to the Reliant, Sundance and Caravelle, all with front-wheel drive and most with four cylinders, up to the full-size Gran Fury with eight cylinders and rear-wheel drive.

The Chrysler lineup begins with the LeBaron four-door sedan and includes both the GTS and GTS coupe and convertible. Then there is the six-cylinder New Yorker and New Yorker Landau.

Best sellers of all are the Voyager and Gran Voyager mini wagons. "These are really hot," Bach said. "We just can't seem to keep enough in stock."

Lesser, who has 18 years in the automobile business, said the secret to selling cars to the masses is "to fit the car to the person." This means not only body size, but pocketbook, lifestyle and use, whether it be for driving to work everyday in downtown Chicago, weekend trips to northern Wisconsin or hauling the children to and from school each day. "We have done that both here and Waukegan," he said, "and we've already had lots of happy customers. We plan to build on this philosophy and that of the dealership."

increases in Northern Illinois of 3.97 percent and central/southern Illinois of 1.82 percent.

David Vite, president of the Illinois Retail Merchants' Assn., announced the July results of the IRMA/Touche Ross Retail Sales Comparison Report. The 55 firms surveyed, represented by 281 stores statewide, have totaled over $1.18 billion in Illinois sales volume for the retailing fiscal year beginning Feb. 1.

"July retail sales were greatly tempered by the extremely hot weather," Vite said. "Some areas showed significant declines but the results were, on the whole, positive."

Shoe, variety and other stores fared the best in July, reporting an overall increase of 5.76 percent statewide—with increases of 7.53 percent in central/southern Illinois, 6.77 in northern Illinois, three percent in metropolitan Chicago.

Department stores were up 4.24 percent statewide, with metropolitan Chicago increasing 5.17 percent, and northern Illinois up 3.06.

'Sideline' income SBDC

by ALAN NADOLNA

The number of multiple-income families in the United States is increasing each year. More and more wage earners are supplementing incomes with part-time jobs. These people often find themselves with discretionary income. At the same time, the laws allowing deductions for retirement plans have become increasingly strict, and have curtailed the amounts that can be contributed to IRAs, pensions, 401K plans, etc.

In a strange oversight, the Internal Revenue Service has missed one very interesting tax-saving opportunity. Up to 100 percent of "sideline" income can be deposited into a self-employed retirement plan. A $10,000 contribution can save up to $3,300 in taxes, and the $10,000 will compound tax free.

This plan has limits of course. It is applicable to a limited amount of income and is affected by participant's age. A 45-year-old may be able to deposit up to $10,000 while a 60-year-old can deposit as much as $20,000 each year.

The "de minimus" defined benefit plan requires individual design and a specialized plan document, but this is certainly a small price to pay for continuous deductions.

In a situation where one spouse earns sufficient income for family expenditures, the other spouse's "discretionary" income can be fully sheltered from income tax. The additional benefit is the sheltering of interest earnings from taxes as well.

These plans can also provide a death benefit, enabling the purchase of needed life insurance with pre-tax dollars.

Anyone expecting some windfall income in one or over a few years can use this plan. It is not necessary that the plan exist for a specified period of time. If the income stops, or the family needs change, then the plan can be stopped as well.

In some circumstances it is possible to borrow money from the plan and pay interest to yourself.

No one should attempt to initiate a plan of this type without professional guidance. While the benefits are significant, the penalties that accompany disqualification of improper plans are even more serious. Special documents and procedures are necessary to ensure IRS approval, but the costs of these are small compared to the potential benefit.

Alan Nadolna is the consultant for Pacific Financial, Chicago, financial advisors to corporations and individuals. He is a member of a panel of financial experts preparing This Way To Wealth. Your questions are invited by writing to This Way To Wealth in care of the Lakeland Newspapers, 30 W. Whitney St., Grayslake, Ill. 60030 or to 2203B Lakeside Dr., Bannockburn, Ill. 60015.

charged for workshops and training seminars to offset administrative costs. The program is funded through a matching cash agreement between the federal government and CLC.

Since the center opened in 1986, Cobb reported, it has provided consulting to 1,400 individuals, assisted in 43 new business start-ups, and helped create or retain over 200 jobs. The center also helped obtain 18 loans totaling $1,644,000.

Cobb introduced three business owners who have taken advantage of SBDC services and successfully opened small businesses. They are:

Caesar Kalinowski, president of Graceland, Inc., a Waukegan record-distribution and label company. Last month, the company signed a contract with the second largest distribution company in the Christian music industry that will allow the company to increase sales by an estimated $188,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Cardenas, owners of a Bressler's Ice Cream and Yogurt shop in Lake Villa. The SBDC helped them prepare a business plan and secure a $90,000 loan to acquire the franchise.

Joel Mitchen, president of the Waukegan-based research development company Safety Diagnostics, Inc. The company is currently developing a minimally invasive procedure to safely test blood for hepatitis, AIDS, cholesterol and blood sugar levels. By 1990, the company could create up to 100 jobs.

"I've got a brighter future with this product because of the SBDC's help," said Mitchen. "They really helped expand the possibilities for development of this product."

He has winning formula, no liquor

by David W. Walker

A 26-year-old auto racer has no misgivings about his sport: Put speed on the track and not in the body. And put speed on the track he does!

The young resident of Long Lake has locked in second place at the Illiana Speedway, Schererville, Ind., this season and is a mere 30 points out of first place, amounting to one night of racing.

How does he do it? Hard work and practice of the four D's: Desire, Dedication, Determination and Drive. At the same time, however, an important element in this racer's mix is his favorable lifestyle of resisting the use of illicit drugs and intoxicating beverages.

The level-headed driver is Rick Kleich, Jr. "There is no place for mixing racing with alcohol or other adverse elements. One can't compete otherwise," says Rick.

What a refreshing respite from the baseless excuses today's sports stars lend to the excessive use of such drugs as cocaine. Kleich, not one to mince words, says emphatically, yet with great humility, "I believe I am doing the right thing. It doesn't concern me what others do. I am not a follower."

While Kleich has been racing a mere three years, he has placed in the top five of each race nearly 75 percent of the time. This year, he has mustered two feature race wins and has registered fast time at Illiana every Saturday night, except for five occasions. Illiana schedules some 25 events each year.

Kleich, like many in auto racing, is inspired by a powerful influence—his father, Rick Kleich, Sr. Much of this inspiration generates from the fact that his father was a successful race driver himself, having won the USAC-sanctioned Mid-America Road Course Championship in 1963.

"Rick is the youngest race driver in his class in Illinois. He's definitely headed toward the ARTGO or ASA series," boasts Rick Kleich, Sr.

Together, the two make a powerful duo in gasoline alley—a fine mix of the old and new, experience and enthusiasm, and pragmatism and idealism.

Kleich is the key to success, however, as he is "the shoe" that propels the car to victory lane. But it is not his driving alone that will deliver success. Rather, it is the additive of endless nights of building and rebuilding engines, establishing tire stagger, adjusting suspension and assuring all the other parts work in synergy with one another.

It is the genuine hard work from 9 a.m. to midnight each day in the family-owned garage, appropriately entitled "Finish Line Engineering" that affords Kleich the racer's edge.

While hard work is essential, auto racing requires another key element to be successful—money. Engines can range from $15,000 to $20,000 per engine. Then there is the cost of the chassis and nuts and bolts making up the rest of the car. A typical car may cost anywhere from $30,000 to $50,000.

Kleich, however, escapes these excessive costs by building his own cars piece by piece with his own hands. This also points to another dimension. It is rare in auto racing today to find the principal mechanic as the driver, too.

However, even with the financial constraints he faces, one senses the modest garage in which he engineers the machinery is just a facade for the bigger things to come.

While Kleich credits his success to multiple factors, it is obvious that he keeps his eye on his work both personally and professionally. Hence, if one ventures over to Illiana one Saturday night, remember not to offer him a beer. He'll only refuse.

However, don't feel insulted. He's the designated driver and knows exactly the speed he wants to go.

Ducks Unlimited will hold dinner

The Lakeshore Chapter of Ducks Unlimited will hold its annual fund raising dinner on Thursday, Sept. 22.

Ducks Unlimited is a National conservation organization which raises funds throughout the United States, using these funds to provide waterfowl and wildlife breeding areas throughout the Northern United States and Canada.

Seventy per cent of all waterfowl that migrate across the United States originate from this area. Ducks Unlimited currently has four million acres of prime breeding grounds under its control in 2,400 projects. This represents 14,000 miles of shoreline utilized by over 600 species of wildlife.

For 50 years, Ducks Unlimited has been helping conserve wetlands in North America. The greatest majority of its funds come from membership dinners such as this, throughout the country.

Ducks Unlimited has wetland conservation projects in Canada, Mexico and the United States. These projects make certain there is water available for waterfowl and other wildlife when they need it the most. With an annual loss of some 700,000 acres of wetlands in North America, Ducks Unlimited's job becomes more critical each year.

The dinner will be held at the Waukegan Yacht Club, the end of Grand Ave. at the Lake Front, Waukegan. Refreshments will start at 6 p.m., dinner at 7 p.m. The cost of a ticket is $40 which includes a prime rib dinner and door prize. An auction and prize awarding will follow the dinner with many fine items available.

This is a sell out event, so early ticket purchases are recommended. The event is limited to 250 tickets. Additional information may be obtained by calling John Leonardi (312) 680-3242.

Fall means new approach to ho-hum fish season

by Colonel Bill Radke

As fall nears, it's time to try a new enthusiastic approach to what may have been a ho-hum fishing season. Extreme heat and lack of rainfall have their affects on fishing. Weather is getting closer to normal and fish are stocking up on food for the winter. Anglers can do the same in their freezers.

The fishing in the Illinois Chain O' Lakes last weekend produced better results for us than during the past three months. A collection of striped bass and channel catfish produced a surplus, now cleaned and frozen for the future.

Minnow baits were constant producers, but the pesky little stripers cleaned our hooks so fast we switched to cut bait. A little white meat from the injured catch on the tip of a hook or a small jig produced nearly as well and also attracted perch.

We worked the edges of islands and shorelines looking for stone-roughened bottoms. Small shiney, long shanked brass wire hooks work well and may be preceded with a light lead, pinch weight attached to the line, 18 to 24

This gets the bait to bottom, but allows it to reflect the light, slow rod action as the weight moves forward during the tip twitching and slow crank return. Wire hooks will bend if caught on bottom objects, and free more easily than the stronger and more rigid hook variety. They are inexpensive, don't rust, hold a point pretty well and attract fish.

Covering Illinois' 10-lake chain these days is a little easier, based on probably the best identification signs we have seen in years. Bridges, channels and special areas are buoyed Chain O' Lakes State Park ranks among the top in attendance, with facilities for all types of camping and water related interests.

Water safety is a concern during the busy lake weekends. During the three-hour safety check of 650 boats in August, about 5 percent required additional safety equipment. This is an important safety service for all boaters. Also, illegal drugs detected aboard any vessel is a zero-tolerance basis for seizure by federal officers pending proceedings.

Part of the agency program is a long-term dredging project, now getting underway. It's designed to aid navigation for the 20,000 boaters using the waterways. The task is formidable, as the leased state dredge processes only about four feet per hour. The goal is six-foot deep channels—wide enough for navigation. Fifty-five sites are scheduled on the lakes and the Fox River.

Sept. 24 is National Hunting and Fishing Day. It's a re-dedication to conserving and enjoying the outdoors.

Players schedule auditions

Waukegan Community Players announces auditions for "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" at 2 p.m. on Sunday, Sept. 11, and at 7:30 p.m. on Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 12 and 13.

All auditions will be held at the Rosenwald Cottage, Bowen Park, Sheridan Rd., Waukegan.

Pat Jamison, the director, is casting 11 male roles and eight female roles. Six of the women's parts are for dancers/singers, and anyone interested should bring character shoes or shoes with a high heel to the audition.

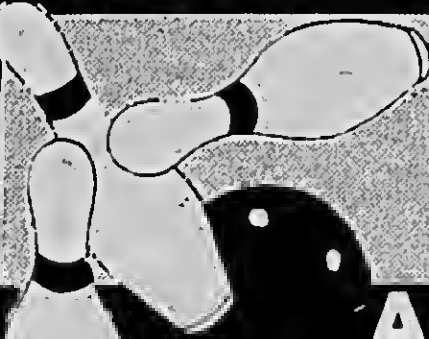

The singing in the show is for baritones and tenors, and the women's roles will need sopranos. Good acting is a plus, and great physical condition a must! Jamison said that since this is a farce, stamina will be needed to do a great deal of running up and down the auditorium aisles.

Rehearsals begin Sept. 18, with the production to be presented two weekends in November. For further information, call (312) 746-2213.

and marked.

Also, free waterway maps are available. By posted signs, boaters are informed of lake names, routes on overhead bridges and feeder stream identification. This is part of the Chain O' Lakes Fox River Waterway Management Agency services. They are supported by a user fee structure which produced over $400,000 in 1988.

These funds have been supplemented by state and county appropriations, in dollars, supplies and services to provide a million-dollar budget this year. Lake County's Visitor Bureau credits the Chain and Fox River with attracting 3.2 million visitors last year who engaged in related water-oriented activities. Illinois Conservation's

Movie 'Betrayed' ★★ betrays consciences

by IRIS MAYFIELD

"Betrayed," a disturbing film with a shock-opener scene, stars Tom Berenger, Debra Winger and John Heard, and takes place in the midwest with many scenes in downtown Chicago.

Debra Winger is an undercover agent in a sticky relationship with her boss John Heard. Berenger becomes the target of her investigation, but, as Berenger and Winger become involved, the stage of betrayal is set for a variety of the characters, if not all of them.

The movie shows some of the worst of humanity, such as the Ku Klux Klan and their ilk, and cross-burning "Nigger" and "Jew" hunts.

Beginning scenes had a variety of characters offering prophetic sayings about the end scenes of the movie, such as the preacher who said, "A long forgotten wind is starting to blow."

However, it was a sick and dehumanizing wind as the movie unfurled its jingoistic, sadistic scenes of a fascinating plot, not sufficiently counterbalanced by the "good guys," because the so-called "good guys" weren't very good, in that killing an innocent person to get the job done was a necessary act, to their thinking.

The story line was strong, riveting, and repulsive.

The audience audibly reacted in two ways. There were those who cheered the anti-negro slurs, and there were those that were repulsed by the anti-negro and anti-semitic slurs and actions.

When the line was said, "They got ten guys dressed as cops gonna kill niggers in Harlem," some people laughed in the audience.

This movie makes you touch some of the worst and some of the best inside yourself, which is one of the reasons it is disturbing.

Then, the movie raises the question, who is betrayed in this movie? The end of the movie offers what is an ultimate, sociological betrayal.

It is a very well made film, with fine acting, but...

THIS WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY SALOME

Weekly Tip: Stay away from risky business deals.

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr. 19) A surprise for those you care about is in order. If people around you aren't happy, remember they may be having problems. Be a friend and help out.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20) Go see some good friends. Don't let some current murky waters stop you from implementing your plans. Move along, and listen to your instincts.

Gemini (May 21-June 20) Avoid any radical changes. Keep a watchful eye on your budget. Avoid someone who could bring you trouble. Stick with devoted friends and family.

Cancer (June 21-Jul 20) A phone call will not go unappreciated. Be careful not to give up something you've worked on for something you don't understand. Dress well.

Leo (Jul 21-Aug. 22) As finances are perking up, take time off to have some laughs with a few good pals. Go ahead and indulge in some of your favorite activities.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Budget your time so that you can see more of your friends. Don't let partners change your plans too dramatically. Agreements can be reached now.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct 22) You and your "significant other" can be happy together now. Don't get involved in anything of a risky nature. Your personal life should run smoothly.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) Look into new outlets for amusement now. You can use your keen logical mind to solve problems. A good sense of humor can take you very far.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Be enthusiastic with regards to business affairs for good results. Gather information before making judgments. Handle private affairs wisely.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Improve your image by making subtle changes. Check with financial advisers on how your investments are doing. Perform at your highest level.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Get those new ideas across with ease now. Things you do for your mate will be greatly appreciated. Positive social expansion is essential now.

Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) People different from you can give you excellent advice now. Persevere in your romantic endeavors. Be positive and conventional with family affairs.

If you were born this week, you must realize that you are only limited by self-doubt. There are times when you could easily pass another milestone, but by not trusting your instincts you often fall by the wayside. Once you've got your eye set on something, find a way to get to it and see it through to the finish.

Make training fun, consistent, repetitive

by PAUL SMITH

Vanity license plates tell tales about the people behind the wheels of the vehicles they adorn, and Doug Kennedy's plates read "H2O DOG."

The professional trainer of hunting retrievers for five years visited the Gander Mountain warehouse in Wilmot Saturday to share his expertise with about 75 retriever enthusiasts during two sessions.

Kennedy offered plenty of practical advice and demonstrated methods and results with his own dogs and other currently under tutelage at his Dousman, Wis., kennel.

The main point Kennedy had to make was to keep the training fun -- for the dog and for the trainer.

He maintained that more would be accomplished more quickly if drudgery wasn't involved. A happy pupil is a good pupil. A happy teacher is a good teacher.

Kennedy is a happy teacher. He got started in training with his own dogs 14 years ago. A hunter, he wanted a companion in the field who would help him put meat on the table and be a conservation tool as well.

He enjoyed working with the dogs, and got involved in field trialing them. He is currently more interested in running his dogs through hunting retrieving tests, which are different from field trails, geared "more toward actual hunting conditions."

The "armchair" trainer should know that consistency and repetition rank right with keeping training fun for importance. And don't nag your dog, or, just as a human might "tune out" his or her boss, wife or husband, the dog will tune out the trainer.

Also, the armchair trainer should "get out of the armchair and get out with the dog," Kennedy said.

That's how you develop a relationship. That's how you learn about your dog and his or her personality.

And that's the final lesson: There is more difference among individual dogs than among breeds. Every dog "has a different personality and a different growth rate."

To see trained hunting retrievers in action, go to the Bong Recreation Area near Kenosha on Saturday or Sunday. Field trials will be conducted both days.

Water dogs

Doug Kennedy prepares to continue his retriever training seminar Saturday at Gander Mountain in Wilmot, Wis. with Shine, a champion Chesapeake Bay retriever. Kennedy has been training hunting retrievers professionally for five years. His interest shows in his vanity license plates.

10 reasons why you should maintain and increase your newspaper advertising when business is slow.

1. Whether business is good or slow, you have to get your share of whatever business is around. Cutting back your advertising puts you at a disadvantage at the very moment when you need an edge. Increasing your advertising gives you the edge.

2. In times of uncertainty, consumers are careful and a little reluctant to spend. They want to be sure before they buy; they want information about products, services, prices and values. The best source is newspaper advertising. Yours—or somebody else's.

3. Maybe you figure other retailers in your line are going to cut back their advertising, so it's safe for you, too. Right? Wrong. You're in competition for the customer's dollar with very other retailer in town, no matter what he or she sells. People have only so many dollars to spend and if they don't spend them for what you sell they'll spend them for something else.

4. There are more people working now than ever before. More women working, too, adding to the family income. People still need and want goods and services and will spend for them. There is plenty of business out there. Your competitors will be bidding for their share—and yours.

5. You can't do much about most factors in the marketplace: rent, labor cost, price or merchandise, what the competition will do. But one thing you do control is your own promotion. Remember that newspaper advertising is not just a cost of doing business. It's a proven sales tool that returns many times your investment in store traffic and sales.

6. Remember how long it took you to get started? Once you build up a business, you can keep it going with a moderate, consistent advertising program. But if you cut your advertising and lose your hold on the public's awareness you'll find it's much harder to build it up again. It's sort of like starting all over.

7. Your advertising is part of your sales force. Newspaper ads help to pre-sell the customers and help you close the sale faster. What saves you time saves you money.

8. You say your customers know you and for a while at least they'll keep coming in even if you don't promote? That's partly true, but shortsighted. Remember, one out of five Americans moves every year. So there's a steady flow of your customers out of your market, and a corresponding influx of new folks who don't know you at all. Tell them about yourself.

9. Here's a hard fact to chew on. Over any given period, a business that advertises below the industry average has sales that are below the industry average.

10. Advertising is "news" — about products and services. Your customers look for this kind of news in the pages of Lakeland Newspapers. In plush times, retailers often experiment with other media. But when the going gets tough, they concentrate their efforts in the newspaper because it provides an immediate payoff at the cash register.

Big shopping tape

Cash register tape for $760 is stretched among those taking part in the annual Lindenhurst Chamber of Commerce Food Around contest. It was won this year, as two years ago, by Dr. Ted Restarski, right, a Lindenhurst dentist, who holds one end of the tape. He donated the shopping spree to his daughter, Karen Jones, center, and her husband, Jeff, of Gurnee. Also taking part in the early-morning sale at the Eagle food store in Lindenhurst were John Miller, left, of Linden Plaza Barber Shop and, next to him, Corky Gross, president of the chamber.

LEGAL
ANTIOCH TOWNSHIP ASSESSMENT ROLL FOR 1988
OFFICIAL ASSESSMENT LIST:

This publication is the official notice to property owners of the 1988 changes of land and improvements in the Township of Antioch. The 1988 assessments as published are those determined by the Assessor and/or the Supervisor of Assessments. It is the duty of the Assessor to assess all taxable property on a uniform basis of valuation so that the assessed values of the various properties are a just and equal assessment of such properties according to law.

The assessment roll recording the values of property determines only the distribution of the total tax load among the individual property owners. The Township Assessor and/or the Supervisor of Assessments has no control over the amount of taxes levied, nor the public expenditures. The amount of those assessed values does not determine the amount of your tax bill. The established tax rate does that. The Assessor does not make the rate; he merely finds the value of your property.

EQUALIZATION

The following printed assessments, as well as all other assessments in the township, are shown at 33.33% of market value, having been equalized to that level by the Supervisor of Assessments, who has applied a factor of 1.0618 to all values except those assessed under the provision of Secs. 20e, 20g-1, 20k and 44.1 of the Revenue Act of 1939, as amended.

Application of the township equalization factor represents a 6.18 percentage increase in assessments.

To determine the market value of your property, add the total of the land and the total of the building(s) and divide the result by 0.3333. If it appears that the resulting number is higher than the market value of the property, you may be over-assessed. If the resulting number is less than your opinion of market value, the assessment may be low.

ARRANGEMENT OF LIST

If you live in an incorporated area (city or village), your property is listed under the name of your city or village, which will be in alphabetical order. Each street within the city or village is also arranged in alphabetical order. Property owners living on the same street will be listed as follows:

First-vacant property or improved property with no street number
Second-property with street number listed in numerical order (may be approximate)

If you live in an unincorporated area, the property is listed alphabetically by post office and street name. Then, property without street numbers will be listed first followed by numbered properties in numerical order.

INFORMATION ON ASSESSMENTS

Any property owner who has any question in regard to the assessment of his property should call the local Township Assessor's Office. This publication does not reflect reductions for Homestead Limited Exemptions, Senior Homestead Exemptions, Homestead Improvement Exemptions or Disabled Veteran's Exemptions. The aforementioned exemptions are not removed from the assessment until the time of billing. You will see them removed on your tax bill, with a notation as to which exemptions have been applied.

Note that land value and building value appear separately and should be added together to arrive at a total assessed value. These values are subject to a state adjustment factor certified to the County Clerk by the Illinois Department of Revenue. Any property owner who objects to the amount of his assessment should file a complaint in writing with the Board of Review from June First to September 10, 1988, or until 30 (thirty) days after publication, whichever is later. Complaints must be on the prescribed form and can be obtained by telephoning 360-6609, or by written request to the Supervisor of Assessments, 18 North County Street, Waukegan, IL 60085-4339.

Questions regarding the grid system used in determining address numbers should be directed to the Lake County Map Department, whose telephone number is 360-6373.

LEGAL GRANT TOWNSHIP ASSESSMENT ROLL FOR 1988

OFFICIAL ASSESSMENT LIST:

This publication is the official notice to property owners of the 1988 changes of land and improvements in the Township of Grant. The 1988 assessments as published are those determined by the Assessor and/or the Supervisor of Assessments. It is the duty of the Assessor to assess all taxable property on a uniform basis of valuation so that the assessed values of the various properties are just and equal assessment of such properties according to law. The assessment roll recording the values of property determines the distribution of the total tax load among the individual property owners. The Township Assessor and/or the Supervisor of Assessments has no control over the amount of taxes levied, nor the public expenditures. The amount of these assessed values does not determine the amount of your tax bill. The established tax rate does that. The Assessor does not make the rate; he merely lists the value of your property.

EQUALIZATION

The following printed assessments, as well as all other assessments in the township, are shown at 33.33% of market value, having been equalized to that level by the Supervisor of Assessments, who has applied a factor of 1.0744 to all values except those assessed under the provision of Secs. 20c, 20g-1, 20k and 44.1 of the Revenue Act of 1939, as amended. Application of the township equalization factor represents a 7.44 percentage increase in assessments.

To determine the market value of your property, add the total of the land and the total of the building(s) and divide the result by 0.3333. If it appears that the resulting number is higher than the market value of the property, you may be over-assessed. If the resulting number is less than your opinion of market value, the assessment may be low.

ARRANGEMENT OF LIST

If you live in an incorporated area (city or village), your property is listed under the name of your city or village, which will be in alphabetical order. Each street within the city or village is also arranged in alphabetical order. Property owners living on the same street will be listed as follows:

First-vacant property or improved property with no street number
Second-property with street number listed in numerical order (may be approximate)

If you live in an unincorporated area, the property is listed alphabetically by post office and street name. Then, property without street numbers will be listed first followed by numbered properties in numerical order.

INFORMATION ON ASSESSMENTS

Any property owner who has any question in regard to the assessment of his property should call the local Township Assessor's Office. This publication does not reflect reductions for Homestead Limited Exemptions, Senior Homestead Exemptions, Homestead Improvement Exemptions or Disabled Veteran's Exemptions. The aforementioned exemptions are not removed from the assessment until the time of billing. You will see them removed on your tax bill, with a notation as to which exemptions have been applied.

Note that land value and building value appear separately and should be added together to arrive at a total assessed value. These values are subject to a state adjustment factor certified to the County Clerk by the Illinois Department of Revenue. Any property owner who objects to the amount of his assessment should file a complaint in writing with the Board of Review from June First to September 10, 1988, or until 30 (thirty) days after publication, whichever is later. Complaints must be on the prescribed form and can be obtained by telephoning 360-6609, or by written request to the Supervisor of Assessments, 18 North County Street, Mokena, IL 60085-4339.

Questions regarding the grid system used in determining address numbers should be directed to the Lake County Map Department, whose telephone number is 360-6373.

Fluoride program starts 2nd decade

As the school bells ring again, and children return to the classrooms, the school fluoride-mouth-rinse program begins its second decade.

From now until the school year ends, about 100,000 children will rinse their mouths with a fluoride solution once a week. The rinsing process takes about five minutes and is simple enough for even the youngest school child to learn.

The school mouth-rinse program is conducted to help combat tooth decay. When linked with fluoridated drinking water, good oral hygiene, a low-sugar diet and regular visits to the dentist, it completes the "package" of good habits that help prevent tooth decay.

Since tooth decay can begin as soon as the "baby" teeth come through the gums, it is never too early to get a child on a comprehensive routine of measures to prevent decay.

The school mouth-rinse program started in a few rural schools in the 1977-78 school year with about 15,000 students participating. This year, students in nearly 500 schools in 68 of the state's 102 counties will take part.

The materials for rinsing—the rinse, pump dispensers and educational materials—are provided by the state health department's Dental Health Division. The only items the schools provide are paper cups and napkins.

The program is effective, as studies show it reduces cavities by about 35 percent.

If your child is in a school that does not have a fluoride mouth-rinse program, you might want to suggest they start one. Information on how to do so can be obtained from the Illinois Dept. of Public Health, Div. of Dental Health, 535 West Jefferson, Springfield, Ill. 62761.

By promoting good dental-health habits from an early age, you can save your child a lot of pain and embarrassment later in life.

Octoberfest looking for exhibitors

Wisconsin's largest one-day outdoor festival, Appleton's Octoberfest celebration, is set for 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 1.

A full mile of downtown Appleton will once again become a wonderland of sights, sounds, food and good fun for the entire family. From rock stages to polka bands, a children's play area to an arts festival, there clearly will be something for everyone at Octoberfest 1988.

Festival attendance has grown steadily over the past seven years, a record-breaking 200,000 attended the event in 1987, and the eighth annual event promises to be even bigger and better according to festival officials.

"We expect another record-breaking crowd at Octoberfest," said Judie Gillespie, executive director of the event. "We are expanding the grounds to run the length of College Ave. from State St. up to and including the Lawrence University campus.

"This expansion allows us to add three more stages to the program," Gillespie continued. "Octoberfest will now feature 10 entertainment stages with the addition of a polka stage, a stage of Armenian the Mime, and a second rock stage. The addition of another rock stage will ease crowding in that popular area."

Other entertainment stages at Octoberfest will include: comedy, children's bluegrass/folk, performing arts, '50s and '60s music, jazz and country music.

Other entertainment areas will feature demonstrations by various artists as well as black belt instructors and their students. There will be also a petting zoo and "Legos Playland" for children, and a variety of roving entertainers will wander the festival grounds, performing whenever and wherever they find an audience.

According to Gillespie, nearly 75 percent of available booth space has already been reserved for this year's event. Local organizations interested in making booth reservations or obtaining more information about Octoberfest should contact Gillespie at (414) 739-5849.

Town meeting with Crane

Congressman Phillip Crane (R-Arlington Heights) of the 10th Dist. held an old-fashioned town meeting at the College of Lake County last week where he discussed issues of the present and future. The audience at the well-attended meeting program heard a discussion of the nation's defense budget, Social Security and where the nation is headed economically, who will win the presidency in November and a number of other topics. Crane has been postponing his presence in Lake County as election day approaches for him and other candidates on the November ballot.

St. Mary's chooses dean

The Very Rev. Gerald Kicanas, president/rector of the University of St. Mary of Lake has announced the appointment of Rev. Brian G. Sullivan, O. S. A., as academic dean for a term of three years. The appointment was made by Joseph Cardinal Bernardin, chancellor of the University of St. Mary of the Lake, Mundelein Seminary, and Cardinal Archbishop of the Archdiocese of Chicago. Born in Chicago, Father Sullivan is a Carmelite priest who has served as a teacher at Mundelein Seminary since 1982. Father Sullivan holds the degree master of arts from the University of Notre Dame. Before coming to Mundelein, Father Sullivan served as a secondary principal in Houston, Texas, dean of admissions/registrars and director of continuing education at the Washington Theological Union, and currently serves as assistant director of the doctor of ministry program, Mundelein.

The office of dean is responsible for the academic requirements of Mundelein Seminary and for educational and faculty leadership.

On Dec. 19, 1844, Bishop Quarter received the State Charter to begin the University of St. Mary of the Lake. At that time it was located at Madison and Michigan Aves. in Chicago, next to Lake Michigan. Cardinal Mundelein instituted the University in Lake County in the town of Area. Lake Eara was renamed St. Mary's Lake.

Stahoviak makes team

Scott Stahoviak, a Carmel High School graduate, will not only be adjusting to college life but also be involved in a top-notch baseball team. Stahoviak, who helped Carmel to a regional baseball championship this spring, is a first baseman and right-handed pitcher for the USA Junior National Team. The team will compete in the World Junior Baseball Championships in Sydney, Australia in December. Stahoviak, who is attending Creighton University in Nebraska this fall, made the team after competing in a month of games at the International Baseball Friendship Games in Rapid City, S.D. Stahoviak, who bats left but throws right-handed, is 6-4, 205. The Mayslake resident was a member of the CHS basketball squad as well as a baseball player.

The USA Junior National Team is coached by Bernie Walter, head baseball coach at Arundel High School.

Fore invite nears

Fore Golfers Only of Schaumburg will sponsor an invitational on Monday, Sept. 12. Activities will begin at noon at Lake Barrington Golf Club overlooking Lake Barrington. New Career?

You can't keep Antioch's Steve Wapon away from the football field. Wapon started his new career as a television commentator when he was in the broadcast booth for U.S. Cable's broadcast of the Carmel-Waukegan East game in Waukegan Saturday at Weiss Field in Waukegan. Wapon, after 20 years on the football sidelines at Antioch, the last 10 as head coach, admitted it was a different situation. Veteran sportscaster Keith Ryan and Wapon's fellow commentator, College of Lake County Athletic Dir. and ex-Chicago Bear Curtis Gentry, helped the newcomer learn the ropes.

Helping Huskies

Two area graduates are hoping to impress Northern Illinois University coaches enough this year to see some playing time.

Included on the NIU roster for this fall are Mundelein graduate Jeff Geary and Barrington High graduate Jim Peshek.

Geary, who was all North Suburban conference last year, is listed as a cornerback at 6-0, 186. Geary red-shirted his freshman season at McKalb.

Peshek, a Lake Zurich resident, is listed as a 5-11, 194 pound senior fullback.

The Huskies, winners over Jerry Faust's Akron Zippers in the home opener, host Middle Tennessee State University at 6:35 p.m. on Sept. 10. The Huskies, now an independent, have also gone big time in the p.r. department, publishing a 118 page color football media guide.

Carmel's new threats

Carmel High School's football team now has two bona-fide running threats out of its backfield this year. Corsairs Steve Brock (37) and Matt Simmons (32) both had more than 100 yards in Corsairs' 21-6 season-opening win over Waukegan East. Carmel fans will have chance to see Brock and Simmons at home for first time when Carmel hosts Woodstock Sept. 9. Game time is 8 p.m. — Photo by Steve Peterson.

Brock-Simmons show a hit with Corsairs

Logic will tell you that in most instances, two talented people trying to accomplish the same thing is better than one.

Need of proof? Just ask the Waukegan East football team, who found out that this fall's Carmel football squad has two threats out of the backfield in a season-opening 21-6 loss to Carmel. That's quite a shock for teams used to shaping their defenses around Donell Foster, now at Illinois State.

The Corsair faithful will have their first chance to catch the one-two punch of Matt Simmons and Steve Brock when Carmel hosts Woodstock Sept. 9 in Mundelein at 8 p.m.

"I thought Matt did a nice job. He was a junior and he will get better. We did a real nice job of controlling the game," Carmel Coach Mike Fitzgibbons said.

"Brock was outstanding. He was a presence on offense and defense," Fitzgibbons said of Brock.

The duo, who lineup alongside Carmel quarterback Thad Sutter (who also earned praise from Fitzgibbons) teamed up to go over the 100 yard mark for the first time in their respective Carmel careers. Brock scored two of Carmel's three touchdowns.

"They're big on the line and they have the horses and they just were riding it," Waukegan East Coach Larry Owens said.

Carmel's offense started with some razzle dazzle in the opening quarter. Woodstock scouts were sent writing when punter Don Anderson tossed a 23 yard strike to split end Randy Splitt on a fourth-down and five play. Four plays later, after Simmons had picked up a key first down, Brock scored from two yards out to cap the nine play, 56 yard drive.

A penalty actually set up Carmel's second score. After the Carmel penalty pushed the Corsairs back to the East 14, Sutter found Anderson open in the right side of the Bulldog end zone for a 14-0 lead for the visitors.

The only serious breakdown came for Carmel on the next kickoff. East's William Handy returned the kick 80 yards for a TD, cutting the lead to 14-6.

"The defense shut them down in the third quarter," Fitzgibbons said.

Not only that, but a late third quarter TD by Brock—this time from three yards out, capped the scoring and allowed Carmel to play its second offense in the final quarter.

Mustangs upset Pats with sneak attack

Gary Heifner said there was no doubt in his mind what he would do when faced with one of the toughest decisions in coaching football.

Should his Mundelein Mustangs go for a two-point conversion and the win, or attempt to tie the game with a kick and hope for the best in overtime?

Just after surprising the highly-touted Stevenson Patriot defense with a seven-yard quarterback sneak for a touchdown on fourth and one, John Bagley rolled right to hit running back Mark Matthews with a pass in the right front corner of the end zone on the game's third to last play. The conversion gave Mundelein an upset 15-14 win.

Heifner said this victory ranks as one of the biggest in his 12-year coaching career, just as big as an upset of Libertyville two years ago.

All of this, even though on Friday he lost three of his players for the Stevenson game. Three phone calls in a row came to his office, he said, each leaving the message that a player would be unavailable. "So I went down to Osco and read a Sport magazine so I wouldn't hear I'd lost a fourth," Heifner joked.

He also noted that the Mustangs had only one penalty, that being a backfield in motion call late in the game. "I told the kids that we didn't want any penalties, that was our goal."

The Mundelein victory celebration overshadowed the performance of Stevenson's Cliff King, who scored both of his team's touchdowns and gained 131 yards on 15 carries. Heifner said their plan was to hold in check running back Chris Holder and let King get what he could. "And he got a lot," Heifner conceded, especially on counter plays.

For the most part, though, the Mustang defense played well. "That's our philosophy, pack the defense," Heifner said, adding that they play a physical game, as does Stevenson. "The rest of the league better buckle up their helmets."

Stevenson Coach Bill Mitz said penalties and poor field position hurt his squad.

Rams lose under the lights as Lester leads Racine to win

The debut of night football for the Grayslake Rams was marred as the flashy moves of Racine St. Catherine running back Wagner Lester shown more brightly than the lights in his team's 21-7 victory.

Lester was the workhorse for Racine, scoring on runs of one and 50 yards. The Rams managed to stop the 6-4, 200-pound back at the line of scrimmage on occasion, but he still managed to break off several long gains.

Grayslake travels to Chicago Sept.

10 to play Weber in what figures to be another tough non-conference game. The contest at Hanson Stadium is set to begin at 4 p.m.

Turnovers were a problem for the Rams on opening night, and Coach Harold Jahnke agreed Grayslake showed the rustiness of a first game, as a rash of fumbles set up opportunities for Racine.

Jahnke noted that his team did have some shining moments, particularly when the defense was hitting hard in the second half. "That's exactly right, there were moments, and then we lost our concentration."

The Rams running game was stopped cold in the opening quarter, but quarterback Timm West hit split end Mark Pasek with a 36-yard pass with 3:32 left in the third quarter to give the Rams their only score.

Jahnke said he wanted to switch to an offense stressing the pass earlier in the game, but his team seldom had the ball in the first half due to turnovers.

Also cited by Jahnke were too many penalties, such as illegal motion.

"That's lack of concentration," he said.

The loss of center Scott Schwankl to an injury occurring on the last play of the first half also hampered Grayslake. The second half saw three snaps go over West's head while he was in the shotgun formation, and the last one bounced out of the end zone for a safety to close out the scoring. Jahnke said snapping in that formation would be one of the things the Rams will work on in practice this week.

Wauconda, Lake Zurich drop openers despite QB's displays

Wauconda's varsity football team got off to a slow start and never quite recovered in losing 21-14 to Cary Grove last weekend, while Lake Zurich could not handle the Riverside Brookfield passing game and dropped a 42-14 decision.

"I was disappointed. I thought we'd come off the ball better than that in the first half," said Coach Fred Loffredo.

"We clearly expected to win," Loffredo added. Although Cary Grove is a bigger school, and some would say Wauconda should be pleased to have stayed close, "We don't like to think like that," he said.

"The bright spot was that we came back in the second half."

Cary Grove scored two second quarter touchdowns, one of them set up by an interception. This was one of the few mistakes made during the game by quarterback Dion Niemo, who hit for third quarter touchdowns to split end Tom Weber, and also to Kevin McGovern, the latter covering 68 yards. Niemo passed for 196 yards on the day, and finished 15 for 27, hitting eight different receivers for completions.

Riverside Brookfield capitalized on several Lake Zurich mistakes in rolling to their victory, and racked up 214 yards passing in the first quarter alone.

Lake Zurich trailed 36-7 at halftime, having gained their touchdown on a 22-yard run in the second quarter by quarterback Scott Krzeminski. They managed their other score on a three-yard jaunt by Mike Kloss in the fourth.

"They played well and we played very poorly," said Coach Wayne Kuklinski, citing inconsistent play.

An exception was the play of Krzeminski, who ran for 105 yards, passed for 112, and had an interception and a 37-yard punting average.

Bulldogs seeking revenge, knock off Fox Valley favorite

Grant football Coach Rogowski won't look hard to find inspiration for his Bulldogs before the Sept. 9 game at McHenry. All the Bulldogs have to do is look at last season's results. A second-week upset at the hands of the Warriors, who went on to lose seven straight games, kept Grant out of the 1987 playoff picture.

Revenge will be on the minds of the Bulldogs, then, when they travel to McCracken Field to face the Warriors. But Rogowski, whose team is coming off a thrilling 34-33 win over Jacobs in three overtimes, knows that the upset will be if the visitors win.

"They have the best team in the Fox Valley Conference. They will win their conference," Rogowski said after watching the Warriors manhandle Johnsburg 39-6. "They should be favored by 21 points."

What kept the Bulldog coaching staff who scouted the McHenry-Johnsburg game busily writing down McHenry plays and tricks was an offense led by quarterback Mark Van Lier. Van Lier guided the winners to 400 yards in offense and threw for touchdown strikes to Brian Johnson twice.

"They're just big and strong. Their coach coaches like he's been there 15 years," Rogowski said of Mike Noll's team.

But the Bulldogs, who started the season with just five experienced seniors, nevertheless will be coming into week two with a win.

"The kids just never quit," Rogowski said.

Johnsburg looking for improvement on defense

Though following a non-opening 39-6 loss against a defense league champion, it doesn't seem like a good way to gain the first win of the season, Johnsburg's football team is looking at the schedule and will be smiling on Sept. 9.

The host Cary-Grove Indians did win the Fox

Valley Conference and qualify for the playoffs last year. But the key words were last year.

The Skyhawks are aiming to at least equal Wauconda's showing against the Trojans in the season opener. The Bulldogs gave Cary a scare before losing 21-14.

"They're not as powerful as they were last year," Johnsburg Coach Hap Farlow said of C-G.

The hosts for the 8 p.m. game needed a second-half rally to beat Wauconda last week while Johnsburg is hoping to recover from that 39-6 loss against McHenry.

"They just manhandled us," Farlow said of the arch-rival Warriors.

Pechauer's debut successful, Sequoits hope to remain top

Antioch Coach Del Pechauer may have shed his head coaching with a victory, but Pechauer has been in the North Suburban Conference to do one thing. To get to the first division, you have to beat back strong Libertyville often big, bad Wildcats in a Sept. 10 game.

"They're big and strong. They had a couple of kids who were sick during practice and had to miss the first game," Pechauer said of the Wildcats, who lost to Zion-Benton 20-0 in the season opener last week.

For Antioch, the Sequoits are coming off a 17-6 home win over Niles North.

Scott Gooch was part of all of those 17 points, kicking a first quarter field goal and then catching two touchdown passes. He also booted two extra points.

Following a 34-yard field goal in the first quarter for a 3-0 Antioch lead, the hosts struck twice in the second stanza.

Quarterback Jon DeBernardis found Gooch open from 34 yards out and then from 24 yards away from the Vikings end zone.

"Gooch had a real good game," the rookie coach said.

Ryan award recipient

Bradley DeThorne, second from right, has been awarded $1,000 Keith Ryan Scholarship at College of Lake County. DeThorne graduated from Waukegan East High School last year, was on student newspaper staff and wants to be journalist, possibly writing fiction. Also shown are Dr. Daniel LaVista, left, president of the college; Doug DeThorne, right, father of Bradley and 1975 graduate of the college, and Keith Ryan.

Panthers face tough test

There are certain matchups in football which teams can use as a measuring tool to see if they will have a successful season.

Big Ten teams used to shoot to dethrone Michigan or Ohio State. Big Eight teams still aim for that upset of Oklahoma or Nebraska.

At Round Lake High School, the Sept. 9 home opener against Dundee-Crown could be of that magnitude for the Panthers.

"The game will not make or break or conference season, but it will be a stepping stone to see what direction we will be going in," Round Lake Coach Mike Dunn said.

The Panthers lost to the Chargers at all three levels last year by big margins, so a competitive contest could add support to the Panthers' hopes for the upcoming Northwest Suburban Conference title.

Dundee-Crown, one of the powers in the Fox

Valley Conference, is coming off a playoff year with a young team which fell 21-7 at the hands of Benet in its season opener.

Round Lake, meanwhile, is coming off an upswing with a come-from-behind 10-7 win over Elmwood Park.

"It was a complete game. We played pretty well on offense and pretty well on defense. We had a couple of key plays that changed the tide of the game," Dunn said.

Girl performs in Europe

Carmel senior Rita Kazlauskas of Waukegan spent 11 days this summer performing in Austria and Germany as part of the prestigious Chicago Youth Symphony Orchestra (DYSO). Only 100 musicians throughout the Chicago area are selected for this honor. Selection is based upon competitive audition.

Meistersinger Halle was recorded for broadcast on Bavarian radio. Kaslauskas, a violinist for eight years, is in her fifth season as a member of the Waukegan Symphony Orchestra and in her second year with the CYSO. She studied formerly with the late George Swigart.

The tour, which ran from June 18 until June 29, began with a concert in the mountains of Austria at the Kongresshaus in Bad Gastein. From there, the young musicians went to Vienna to play at the Musikverein, home of the Vienna Philharmonic Orchestra.

After one of the performances at the Musikverein, the orchestra received a 15-minute ovation.

The CYSO also performed with the internationally known Vienna Boys' Choir at a benefit concert. The group then gave concerts in Linz before crossing into Germany where they played in Nuremburg. Their concert at the Listing the most liberal network news reporters

by VIRGINIA PARK
(312)634-3025

Continuing to look at the subject of biased news presentation by TV in general which I discussed last week, the organization called "Fairness in Media" has reported a new project with this in mind.

Since CBS apparently paid no attention to nearly 100,000 petitions they received asking them to fire Dan Rather

Here are a few network staff members and their liberal connections, as given in one of the recent bulletins from FIM:

CBS
Dotty Lynch, CBS political editor—veteran of the 1980 Ted Kennedy presidential campaign and Democrats Mondale and Hart campaigns.

Thomas Donilon, CBS political consultant—former top aide to Democrat Walter secretary to Senator George McGovern, 1971.

Joyce Kravitz, director, ABC news information, Washington—former press assistant, Democratic National Committee, Carter White House.

Pierre Salinger, ABC news chief foreign correspondent—former press secretary for President Kennedy and Democratic senator from California, 1964.

NBC
Tim Russert, NBC news vice president for news program content—former counselor and media strategist for New York Democratic Gov. Mario Cuomo, 1983-84.

Richard Dougherty, NBC news manager, New York—former press secretary for Democrat George McGovern presidential campaign, 1972.

Jane Pauley, NBC Today Show co-host—former administrative assistant, Indiana Democratic State Committee, 1972.

Hear Ye! Hear Ye!

for his treatment of Vice-President George Bush in an interview; neither did they show concern about the same number of postcards protesting their biased reporting and asking for change, Fairness in Media is now asking the public to write the sponsors of news programs deemed unfair and ask them to withdraw their sponsorship of such time slots.

Money talks, it seems, these days and Fairness in Media feels TV stations will listen more attentively when they are attacked in the pocket-book. If corporations receive a large number of letters of a negative nature, they will surely give the matter serious consideration. Why not try a few letters?

Our own Congressman Phil Crane and Senator Jesse Helms are two of the founders of FIM, and if you want further information about how to get more even-handed news coverage, write them at P.O. Box 96440, Washington, DC 20077.

Mondale and senior advisor to Democrat Joe Biden.

Wally Chalmers, director of broadcast research, CBS news 1984-86—Asst. Sec. HEW Carter Administration, Exec. Dir. of Nuclear Freeze Foundation and Fund for a Democratic Majority and Democratic National Committee, 1986.

ABC
Jeff Grainick, ABC news—former press

Evangelical film starts in Antioch

A new film series on personal evangelism will begin on the Sunday, Sept. 11, by the Chain of Lakes Community Bible Church. The 6 p.m. program will be conducted in the church's temporary meeting place at the Antioch Veterans of Foreign Wars home on North Ave., just east of Rte. 83.

Out of the Saltshaker and into the World is the title of the four-part series. This is the film version of Rebecca Pippert's popular lifestyle evangelism seminar and her best-selling book by the same title. The title is taken from Jesus' words that his disciples were to be the "salt of the earth." Pippert begins the first film, Evangelism as a Way of Life, to address the problem that too many Christians have not yet left the salt shaker.

The other Sunday films in the series are "Getting the Story Straight" on Sept. 18, "Learning to Love" on Sept. 25, and "Sharing the Message" on Oct. 2. The films are approximately 40 minutes long and begin at 6 p.m.

In this series Pippert describes how Christians can discover styles of sharing their faith as suited to their own personalities and gifts. As an evangelism specialist with Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship, Pippert has encouraged hundreds of church and student groups that a lifestyle of evangelism is a calling that every Christian can fulfill.

Pippert currently lives in Jerusalem, Israel, with her husband, Wes.

BEST FOOT FORWARD

FROM THE OFFICE OF
DR. PAUL ABLER

ORTHOTIC'S MILEAGE

Just as gas mileage differs between cars, so too does the longevity of orthotics, especially those of runners.

Shoe inserts have a common purpose: they are designed individually to correct abnormal foot function, most often a tendency to roll inward.

Orthotics differ in construction and materials to meet specific objectives. Semi-rigid inserts in running shoes generally need replacement sooner than rigid types in walking shoes. Soft, compressible inserts require more frequent replacement because they flatten with use.

A runner's speed, running surface and other variables affect the longevity of an orthotic.

One very satisfying reason for replacing an orthotic: as foot function improves, orthotic design should be modified in accord with the foot's structural readaptation.

LAKE COUNTY'S OLDEST & LARGEST & THE ONLY FULL LINE FORD DEALER

Better believe old folks ain't all alike

When I was in mt twenties, getting se to thirty, I thought you were over hill at age forty. But now that I'm y, pushing on to sixty, I've seen twenty-year-olds who are pretty sky. I've seen them in the marathon h fast-moving feet. And yet, I've en others barely making it across the eet.

That's when I began to realize that folks come in different eonditions d sizes. And shapes and situations. d I found out that Old Folks Ain't All Same. They're not cranked out by a rox machine.

Some are rich, lots are poor and nty in-between. Some been married umber one forty years or more; and ne are on number two, or three or r. And still looking for the right one ome along.

Some listen to symphonies, some to . Some like Dixie and some be-bop. ne like waltzes, others like soul. And ne of these old folks can rock and . Or do the conga or the rumba or jitterbug. But let's face it—some of se old folks have two left feet and t dance with a hoot.

Some old folks are talkers, some quiet a mouse. Some are smilers, others mp and grouse. And when ainiscing about their youth, some lie hell while others tell the truth.

Some are worn out at sixty-five. Others full of beans, like to jump and jive; take trips around the world—ramble and roam. While others like the Old Folks at Home—sitting in the old rockin' chair, thinking about the grandchildren. Sipping iced tea while watching some crappy show on TV. Some old folks are fat, some are thin. And some have whiskers on their chin. Some eat rice and some like pasta. Some play bridge and some canasta. Some go bare-headed and some wear hats. Some are Republicans, some Democrats. Some watch soap operas, some watch sports. And some watch only the weather reports—especially if they live in Florida or Arizona. They just love to hear that weatherman say, "A blizzard has just blanketed Chicago with fourteen inches of snow and New York City is paralyzed from a freezing rain which has caused hundreds of accedents in the heart of Manhattan."

We've got old people who are record breakers. History makers, movers and shakers. We've got old people who are over-achievers. World leaders, eager beavers. Pictures in the paper, names in the history books. See 'em on the television interviewed by Dan Rather and Barbara Walters.

First boating rule wear a lifejacket

Early in the boating season, it's better to plan a boating trip than just to the water and see what happens.

When boaters leave for ay of cruising, they m expect to find selves in the water, f they do and aren't ring a lifejacket, ir chances of oming a boating tistic increase. nning for that trip on water should include king sure everyone a lifejacket or PFD ersonal flotation ice).

Boaters just starting again for the season d inexperienced aters seldom realize w vulnerable small, en boats are to hazards the water, according the National Safe ating Council.

Early in the boating son in Illinois and consin when water temperatures are in the mid-40s to upper 50s, hypothermia is a constant danger to boaters making an unexpected dunk into the lake.

Hypothermia is the process of loss of body temperature and kills people in cold water by reducing their ability to swim or stay afloat. A person left in cold water eventually will die of cardiac arrest.

Hypothermia is thought to be responsible for half of all boating deaths. Cold water chills the body 25 times faster than cold air.

Small boats can cause a dunking that might not be the result of anything done wrong by people in the boat. It might be caused by wind, waves, hitting an unseen underwater object, or the wake of a careless powerboater.

Seniors' homes directory

Metropolitan Chicago Coalition on Aging announces the completion of the Directory of Older Adult Housing, a comprehensive listing of more than 300 housing facilities and programs in metropolitan Chicago.

The elderly population is and will continue to increase rapidly. Statistics show the market for elderly housing will also continue to grow, and combined with the current fiscal policies, the housing shortage which now exists will increase in the future. Marci Karoll, senior housing center director at MCCoA states: "Housing for the elderly is one of the nation's most pressing social concerns."

The housing directory encompasses the following counties: Cook, DuPage, DeKalb, Grundy, Kankakee, Kane, Kendall, Lake and McHenry. It includes listings of the following types of housing: independent apartments, congregate, continuing care communities, cooperative apartments, home-matching programs, respite care, retirement housing, and shared housing. Those who would like to purchase a copy of this useful directory, contact Carol O'Grady at MCCoA at (312)922-5890.

Lake Villa needs ban

One Lake Villa resident thinks it is about time trains stopped blowing whistles when approaching a crossing. She said trains in other communities have been stopped from doing this.

Sarah Lyons of 227 E. Grand Ave. said as of last week trains are prevented from blowing whistles when approaching a crossing with flashing red lights and arm gates. Prior to a restraining order issued by a DuPage County judge, train whistles routinely sounded at all crossings, protected or not.

This was true in Lake

Villa served by the Soo Line and many other communities served by this railroad, the Chicago and North Western, Wisconsin Central and Burlington Northern railroads. Metra is not affected because it is not licensed as a common freight carrier. The law was put into effect as a safety measure in hopes of stopping the rising number of train-car accidents and resulting fatalities.

"It was horrible," she said of train whistles all hours of the night. "I am awakened at least once a night. It is bad enough in the afternoon, but at night when you are trying to sleep it is worst of all." She said this could have an adverse effect on someone trying to sell their property.

Hearings this month by the Illinois Commerce Comm. will decide about trains and their whistles. The next one will be Tuesday, Sept. 6, in the commission offices on Randolph Street in downtown Chicago. Meanwhile, those with complaints about train whistles can call the commission offices in Chicago at (312) 917-2850.

Loss of a friend

Rosemary Walker and her son Jason Rubenstein, 13 Sheehan Dr., Lake Villa, mourn the loss of their friend Nikita Saturday. The year-and-one-half old female Siberian husky got out of her Lake Villa home Friday night after everyone went to sleep and was struck and killed on Rte. 83. The animal was a birthday present to Walker a year ago almost to the day. Through her grief, Walker expressed a desire that this photograph teach people "to watch out for poor defenseless animals." Police came and helped load Nikita's body into the family vehicle to be taken for burial in their yard.
